Reds Deny Giap Killed In Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese officials denied a South Vietnamese report today that Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap was killed in Haiphong, where U.S. warplanes continued to mount the biggest aerial blitz of the war.

A statement by Hanoi's delegation to the Paris peace talks said: "Here, we do not deem it necessary to take the trouble to show that this is a product of the psychological war of the Americans-puppets."

A North Vietnamese official said this was a formal denial that Giap had been killed Friday, reportedly by a delayed mine while on an inspection tour of bombing damage at the Tran Hung Dao armaments depot.

South Vietnamese intelligence sources said the report of Giap's death was picked up from a radio broadcast monitored in Saigon, but there was no separate evidence to support it. U.S. officials said they had no knowledge of the report, and no other details were available.

Automakers See Shutdown Under New Ruling

DETROIT (AP) — Two of the nation's top auto makers say they will have to shut down production lines if they are forced to eliminate so-called "defeat devices" from emissions control systems.

The warning came as three of the producers filed appeals Friday of a Dec. 15 order by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) that various systems used to bypass emissions control systems be eliminated from current production.

The nation's biggest producer, General Motors, declined to join in the appeal, however.

said the effect of a March 15 deadline set by the EPA for removal of two of the controversial devices "would be to force termination of 1973 production...for the balance of the model year" because replacement parts to serve the devices' functions could not be immediately developed.

American Motors said "a new development effort" would be required to replace devices currently in model production. The company said production would have to be shut down for at least some time after the March 15 deadline.

Chrysler, also filing an appeal, did not indicate whether enforcement of the order would force a shutdown.

While not joining in the appeals, General Motors reiterated objections to the order. GM also requested an additional month past a Feb. 15 deadline for elimination of another of the devices, a time delay switch used in Pontiacs.

EPA Administrator William Ruckelshaus last week set the February and March deadlines for discontinuation of the devices. He said they violated the Clean Air Act of 1970 by bypassing emissions control equipment in certain operating conditions, such as cold weather starting.

ROUNDTOWN

MANY families in Pickaway County observe certain Christmas traditions... One has been observed by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strous, Route 1, Laurelville, for the past 25 years...

During these years they have displayed in their front yard from early December until New Year's Day a large, handcrafted wooden cross, made by their son Bob... During the evening and early morning hours, commuters and passers-by have enjoyed seeing this lighted symbol of Christmas.

NO chance of a white Christmas, but there might be a wet one, according to the weatherman...

He says it will be cloudy and warm Monday, highs in the upper 40s, with a 30 per cent chance of rain.

LAST of the Santa letters appear in today's edition because space was lacking yesterday... If your letter did not appear, it is possible it was received too late (some letters were received even today although last Saturday was designated as the final day)... If the sender was age two or less, we bundled those letters up and sent them on to the North Pole when we saw we would not have space enough to print them all.

And we send this message from Santa on to all of our readers: "May you have a very, very Merry Christmas."

Quake Hits Nicaragua; Damage Said Heavy

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (AP) — A strong earthquake struck Managua, Nicaragua, early today, reportedly causing extensive damage in the center of that Central American city. First reports indicated there were many homeless, injured and dead.

All normal communications between Managua and the outside were cut by the quake which struck at 12:40 a.m. — 1:40 a.m. EST — but reports reaching Guatemala City from amateur radio operators in Managua indicated damage was very heavy and that Managua was without water and electricity.

Planes with relief supplies, medicine and doctors were being prepared in Guatemala, El Salvador and Venezuela, but one radio operator, transmitting from a mobile unit in the center of Managua, said the interruption in electrical service had put navigation equipment at the Managua airport out of operation.

Highways leading to Managua reportedly were closed, and the only means of transportation to the city was by helicopter.

In Washington, the U.S. State Department said its embassy in Managua had been destroyed, one-third of the city was in flames and most of the hospitals had been leveled.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said its information was based on a message from the Nicaraguan government.

One of the ham radio reports reaching Guatemala City said the Nicaraguan Central Bank an 18-story building, also was heavily damaged. In Boulder, Colo., the National Earthquake Information Center reported that a quake registering 6.5 on the Richter Scale was centered just south of Managua.

The University of California's seismograph station in Berkeley, Calif., recorded the intensity at 7 on the scale.

By comparison, the major Alaskan earthquake on March 27, 1964, registered 8.4 on the scale and the San Francisco quake of 1906 that destroyed most of the city registered 8.3.

In Miami, Fla., a spokesman for Pan American World Airways said one of its flights was scheduled to leave Managua this morning. The spokesman said the control tower in Managua was damaged but that the runway was operational.

Managua, the capital of Nicaragua, has a population of about 300,000, and was struck by a severe earthquake in 1931 which killed 1,000 people and caused $70 million worth of damage.

Survivors Of Plane Crash In October Being Rescued

SAN FERNANDO, Chile (AP) — Eight survivors of an October airplane crash today began their 70th day at the 12,000-foot level in the Andes Mountains, huddled together for warmth in the craft's broken fuselage.

Three mountain-survival experts — bringing food, clothing and medicine — joined them after helicopters rescued six other survivors.

Flight crews waited for clearing skies to resume the rescue mission in an area where clouds usually close high valleys by noon. The forecast was for some cloudiness but better conditions than prevailed the past three days, officials said.

Two Chilean air force helicopters lifted the first six out Friday morning from the wreckage of the Uruguayan air force plane that crashed Oct. 13 on the Argentine-Chilean border.

Their discovery came after two other survivors — both members of the Old Christians rugby team of Montevideo, Uruguay — gave up hope of being found and began walking out. After 10 days, they met a mountain shepherd who carried word to authorities that they and 14 others of the 45 persons aboard the plane had survived the crash, hunger, blizzards and avalanches.

Cesar Charlone, Uruguayan charge d'affaires, spoke to several of the survivors at a hospital in San Fernando, about 110 miles south of Santiago. They told him that 24 of the 45 lived through the crash but eight were buried alive by an avalanche several days later.

Doctors who examined the eight brought to San Fernando said they were "in surprisingly good condition... but they have lost a lot of weight."

Robert Canessa was one of the two rugby players who decided to leave the crash site and seek help.

He said the survivors rationed chocolate bars and light food on board, melted snow for drinking water and ripped off the plane's seat covers to improvise blankets.

They rigged an antenna and a battery-operated radio receiver to hear the discouraging news that the search had been suspended three times because of bad flying conditions. But the patched up radio also brought word that Canessa and his teammate, Fernando Parrado, had been found.

Truman Again Said 'Critical' Due To Heart Problems

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former president Harry S. Truman lapsed into critical condition at 7:45 a.m. EST today and his family has been notified, a spokesman for Research Hospital and Medical Center announced.

The spokesman, Wayne Conery, attributed the change from the former listing of "very serious" to heart problems.

Doctors said this was similar to the situation Friday morning when he lapsed into critical condition for about an hour and a half.

Earlier today, a hospital spokesman said the 88-year-old former president had lapsed into unconsciousness, but said he did not know whether doctors considered Truman to be in a coma.

Truman, who gave 'em hell in politics and is astounding doctors with his spunk despite a wide range of infirmities, lapsed into unconsciousness a few hours after pulling through what was described as "a dangerous period."

Dr. Wallace Graham, Truman's personal physician, said the former president's state of consciousness was secondary to his need of rest.

Truman's "dangerous period"

Friday lasted 1½ hours. It was marked by cardiac instability, decreased blood pressure and an increased pulse rate.

The nation's 33rd president has been receiving a special chemical diet since Tuesday in an effort to restore his kidney function and stave off blood toxicity. It has succeeded in decreasing the poisonous urea-nitrogen level in his bloodstream, but a hospital spokesman said that, "as kidneys improve, there are times when rapid and potentially dangerous changes in body chemistry may occur."

The hospital spokesman said Friday night that Truman's condition was "possibly somewhat worse" than Thursday, adding that "his blood pressure still hasn't improved, and his pulse rate is somewhat rapid."

Tax Repeal Foes Spent $271,021

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Expense statements were filed in the Secretary of State's office Friday for groups fighting for and against repeal of the state income tax in November.

The statements show that the Ohio Education Association and the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation contributed about a third of the $271,021 spent by the state committee that worked to defeat repeal of the state income tax.

According to its expense statement, the Citizens for Repeal of the Income Tax received $10,330 and spent $10,916. Ohio Citizens for Fair Taxation, the anti-repeal group headed by former State Rep. Albert H. Sealy of Dayton, listed contributions from OEA totaling $65,000.

The state farm group was listed as having contributed $40,621 to the committee and making one loan of $10,000.

The repeal group headed by Rep. Robert E. Netzley, R-81 Laura, listed 269 contributors with the largest donation of $1,000 being given by the Newark Industrial Park of Newark.

That committee listed unpaid bills of $2,261 to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., $2,500 to the South Gate Development Co., and $1,622 in operating cash.

Cost Of Living Figures Hurt Inflation Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — New figures on the cost of living make it unlikely that President Nixon will achieve his goal of chopping the inflation rate below 3 per cent for 1972.

Unusually high food prices for November helped drive the cost of living up by three-tenths of one per cent, the Labor Department said Friday. The figures mean a net decline last month in an average weekly earnings of American workers.

Meat prices were a major factor in the increase in consumer food costs which usually decline in November. Food prices rose five-tenths of one per cent.

Nixon this week ordered an end to meat imports to help drive down the price of beef and lamb.

Other unseasonable fluctuations in food prices included sharp hikes in the cost of vegetables and less than expected declines for commodities like pork, eggs and fresh fruit. Clothing and residential gas bills were also up, the department said.

The report said real spendable weekly earnings went down by five-tenths of one per cent from October to November.

The actual increase in the cost of living was 2 per cent, but all figures are adjusted to meet seasonal price trends. The three-tenths of one per cent rise adds up to an annual rate of 3.6 per cent.

Until recent months, Nixon administration officials had stuck to their predictions that the 3 per cent figure could be met.

Other items recording price increases in November included used and new cars, furniture, household supplies and new houses. Gasoline and tire prices declined and rents rose less sharply than before.

Utility costs, especially natural gas, increased too, along with another household cost, mortgage interest rates.

war and has been the principal architect of the North Vietnamese effort in the current war.

Meanwhile, air losses mounted to record numbers as U.S. planes continued to mount the biggest aerial blitz of the war against North Vietnam's heartland.

The U.S. Command admitted that 14 planes, including 10 B52 bombers, have been downed since the heavy raids were launched above the 20th parallel Monday and that at least 55 U.S. airmen are missing.

Radio Hanoi claimed that two more B52s were shot down near Haiphong today, raising to 17 the number of Stratofortresses and to 42 the number of American planes that North Vietnam claims to have downed in the last six days.

While attention focused on the air war in the North, the Saigon government announced a unilateral 24-hour cease-fire in South Vietnam for Christmas, beginning Sunday at 6 p.m.

The South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry initially had announced it would start at noon but later revised the time. The Viet Cong earlier had declared a similar but unilateral 24-hour cease-fire for the holiday, beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday.

The U.S. command refused to comment on the South Vietnamese cease-fire. It said it would not discuss "future operations." However, the Florida White House said President Nixon has left open the possibility he may order a Christmas pause in the air war against the North.

that the devices do not substantially add to air pollution because they function only in starting the car or when the motor is cold.

The makers have said that performance and gas mileage — already believed hurt by emissions control systems — would be further injured by elimination of the bypass devices.

Ford's Misch protested that ambient temperature switches and spark delay valves affected by the ruling are not defeat devices "no matter how that term is defined."

The spark delay valve, he added, is "an effective contributor to the control of emissions to the prescribed levels."

American Motors also asserted that use of the over-ride devices "can reduce emissions by preventing engine malfunction and performance deterioration." Chrysler said one of its devices serves a similar function.

Ford, Chrysler and American also restated complaints that the devices are not in violation of the Clean Air Act. There were also complaints that the order without prior promulgation of appropriate regulations constitutes a violation of due process.

In addition, Chrysler complained of limitations it said the EPA was placing on the scope of hearings that will be held on the appeals.

Pointers From Penni

By PENNI NIELSEN
County Extension Agent,
Home Economics

The Yuletide season is always a joyful time of the year, however, don't let your holidays be spoiled by an accident. Statistics show that more accidents occur in December than in any other month. Be wary of those hazards the holidays bring. When driving, make safety your number one job. Be courteous and respect the rights of pedestrians and other drivers. Allow extra time for heavy traffic in rain, darkness, and congested areas. Stay alert for the driver who has over-accelerated or overcelebrated, and expect the unexpected from pedestrians, too!

When walking, remember the extra dangers of slippery, crowded streets and early darkness. Use proper walking shoes to get maximum traction, and remember, it takes longer for cars to stop on ice and snow. This holiday season keep these lines in mind:

You don't buy good citizenship — you exercise it.

You don't acquire alertness — you practice it.

You don't purchase safety — you earn it.

On the road, courtesy is more than just a social grace... it is a moral responsibility. How about making courtesy your code of the road this holiday season.

Next week will be a busy time in department stores as consumers ask for exchanges and refunds and complain about Christmas purchases.

If you find that you must return merchandise, be a responsible consumer! Most retailers like satisfied customers. Here are some tips on how to return and exchange items, and if necessary, complain about possible unsatisfactory merchandise. Your consumer voice counts!

Be a good customer: Do you have a justified complaint? Have you read the instructions carefully? Did you use the item for its intended purpose? What are the conditions of the warranty, and is the time period still effective?

Do your part for easy exchanges: Don't wear or use the item if you immediately notice anything wrong. Promptly return the product with its sale bill if you use it and find something defective. Remember, reasonable merchandise loses value rapidly. Return the item to the salesperson you purchased it from, UNLESS the store has a separate exchange department. Return merchandise with its sale ticket, if possible. This is your proof of purchase - it protects both you and the retailer. Some items cannot be returned. Be sure to check the store's policy concerning intimate apparel, "sale," and non-returnable items. Know retail policies - whether the store prefers cash refunding, or giving credit or "due billing" for returned merchandise.

How to complain: What you should do when you lodge a complaint depends somewhat on the item. The American National Standards Institute suggests the following: You may (1) Return the item to the store where you purchased it, (2) Write to the store or manufacturer, or both.

Courtesy counts! Reliable manufacturers appreciate your letter of complaint, if it is business-like. Manufacturers want satisfied customers. Letters of complaint may alert companies to product trouble they didn't know existed.

Most manufacturers agree that complaints keep them alert and can even lead to increased profits.

REMEMBER! Complain only when you have a valid gripe! Not only about a money loss, but about rude salespeople, late deliveries, confusing warranties, deceptive advertising, and outright gyms.

Making justified complaints requires courage and patience. It takes time, but it is the best way to be a good consumer. A good consumer is a satisfied customer.

Consider Taxes In Determining Proper Time To Sell Cash Crops

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

Are you holding beans or corn that you are waiting to sell at the highest possible price? It may pay to consider the tax consequences of a sale now, versus waiting until 1973.

If you are one of the unfortunate ones who has had a bad year, it may look easy to wait and sell your cash crops next year. By doing this, you may not owe any Federal income tax for the 1972 tax year.

Let's look at an example and see how much corn or bean prices would have to go up to make holding worthwhile. If you have 2,500 bu. of beans or 7,130 bu. of corn in storage, these are worth approximately $10,000 at today's prices. Let's assume that if you do not sell these before the end of the year, you will not have any Federal income taxes to pay. If you do sell them this year, are married, filed a joint return, and have a taxable income of $10,000, your Federal income tax liability will be $1,820.

Now let's suppose that you decide to hold the corn or beans until next year. If you sell your 1973 crop at harvest, or have other taxable income on 1973 of $10,000, and we assume that 1973 tax rates are the same as the 1972 rates, your tax on this would be $1,820. If you add the $10,000 income from the sale of the 1972 crop in 1973, your tax liability (assuming 1972 rates) on $20,000 would be $4,380.

The taxes against the 1972 corn or beans sold in 1973 would be $2,560, which is the difference between $1,820 and $4,380. Thus in this example, there would be an additional $740 of Federal income tax from postponing sale until 1973. In order to pay the additional tax and break even, soybean prices would have to go up approximately 30 cents per bushel, and corn prices by about 10 cents per bushel. One should also consider the importance of keeping farm income high enough to qualify for Social Security.

Of course if your taxable farm income for 1972 is high than the income you expect in 1973, there would be a tax advantage to holding storable crops until the beginning of next year. Also, if your 1972 income is 120 percent, plus $3,000, of your average income for the last four years, you may qualify for income averaging. If you think you may qualify, you will need to obtain a Schedule G.

Thus, it is easy to see the importance of considering the tax consequences of buying and selling in one year rather than another. However, caution must be used to refrain from making business transactions solely in an effort to reduce taxes, because net income after taxes may actually be lower. For example, if your income is usually high and you purchase a farm machine for depreciation deduction and investment credit you can lower your tax liability, but if you really did not have adequate use for the machine, your net farm profit after taxes could suffer.

4-H On The Go

By FRED SANDROCK
County Extension Agent, 4-H

Another exciting new 4-H project being offered this year is model airplanes.

The best way to learn about aviation and flight principles is to build a model airplane. The forces that cause large aircraft to fly apply to the smallest model. By constructing your own model, you can learn about these forces firsthand.

Model airplane 4-H clubs build, fly, and learn about airplanes together. Many groups get together to have contests with their models. Whose will climb the fastest? Whose is built the best? Whose will fly the longest?

If you would like to join a model airplane club call the Extension Office at 474-7534.

Extensions OK'd For REAP Program

Farmers and ranchers unable to complete conservation practices under the 1972 Rural Environmental Assistance Program because of wet weather conditions may gain an additional six months in which to complete the work, according to George E. Stump local farm program official.

He said that Congress recently had extended the expiration date for cost-sharing under the 1972 REAP from December 31, 1972 to June 30, 1973 in special situations under certain limitations.

The time extension applies only to agricultural producers who were prevented from completing work on their 1972 REAP practices because of adverse weather conditions. Pickaway County has been designated as an area in which this occurred. Since 1972 REAP funds are available within the State, the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee has been authorized to grant time extensions where necessary.

Each cost-sharing application will be considered on an individual basis by the County ASC Committee, said George Stump, who is Committee Chairman.

Farmers who are not prevented to adverse weather from completing their 1972 REAP practices still have a December 31 deadline for reporting to the County ASCS Office that the practices are completed or substantially completed.

For farmers whose 1972 REAP conservation practices or plans have been delayed because of adverse weather, the County ASC Committee has authority to grant extensions of outstanding 1972 approvals for practices likely to be at least substantially completed by June 30, 1973.

REAP Program participants or would-be participants whose practices or plans were disrupted by the weather are advised to get in touch with the County ASCS Office to discuss the situation and advise on whether they want a time extension into 1973. Stump reminded them that June 30, 1973 would be the final date for completing or substantial completion if an extension is approved.

Ways Sought To Make Moldy Corn Palatable

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent, Agriculture

With the abundance of moldy corn available to livestock feeders throughout Ohio and the Corn Belt, concern is mounting among livestock producers on how to feed it for best results. Many hog producers have already found that their hogs refuse to eat corn which has too much mold.

They are now thinking in terms of adding materials such as mold inhibitors to moldy corn or pelleting the corn to see if hogs will accept it. Questions on these subjects are being posed daily to Richard Wilson, professor of animal science at The Ohio State University.

So far, Dr. Wilson has not turned up anything that will increase the palatability of moldy corn, although several materials have been tested. His only suggestion at this point is to follow the already recommended procedure of blending one-moldy grain or other concentrates with the moldy corn.

Pelleting has been tried with no success, according to Dr. Wilson. Recently, he conducted tests on a batch of feed containing moldy corn. This feed came from Madison County where hogs refused to eat it. In the tests, part of the feed was pelleted and the rest used in its original ground condition. Both forms were fed to hogs at the University. Hogs receiving the pelleted feed ate 2.35 pounds per day and lost four-tenths (.4) of a pound of weight per day. Hogs fed the original ground ration ate 2.5 pounds and lost only a half pound of weight per day. Another group of hogs were fed OSU 22, a ground ration considered to be relatively free of moldy corn. Animals in this group ate four pounds and gained 1.2 pounds per day.

If you are considering the use of additives with moldy corn to encourage hogs to eat it, check with Dr. Wilson first to see if his tests have included the additives you want to use. It could save you time and money if known to definitely increase the palatability of feed containing moldy corn, contact Dr. Wilson at 1029 Fyffe Road, Columbus, Ohio 43210. He is interested in such materials and wants to include them in tests.

Feed Grain Program Explained To Farmers

A preliminary explanation of the newly-announced 1973 Feed Grain Program is being mailed to Pickaway county farmers reports George E. Stump, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"As they sort through their Christmas mail, I hope they find the explanation and put it aside for special attention," he said, explaining it is the first official word to be sent directly to farmers on the major provisions of the 1973 Feed Grain Program.

Sign-up for the 1973 feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs begins February 5 at ASCS county offices and continues through March 16.

The 1973 Feed Grain Program includes barley, corn, and grain sorghum, and producers may elect to participate under one of two options.

Option A requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 30 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. Per acre payment ranges will equal to the farm program yield times 35 cents for corn, 33 cents for grain sorghum, and 28 cents for barley. A supplemental payment is possible if a five-month national average price plus the payment is less than 70 percent of parity. Feed grain acreage on farms signed up in Option A will be limited only by set-aside and conserving base requirements.

Option B requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 15 percent of farm's feed grain base. Farmers electing to participate under this plan agree to limit their 1973 total feed grain acreage to the total acreage certified as planted for harvest in 1972 and also agree to forego supplemental payments. Payment will be on acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum, and 20 cents for barley.

Under either option, substitution of wheat in excess of the allotment and soybeans planted for harvest as beans will be considered as feed grain for purposes of preserving feed grain base history for the farm.

Commodity loans will be available to all participants in the feed grain program on the farm's entire production. National average loan rates will be $1.08 per bushel for corn (No. 2 basis); $1.79 per hundredweight (1.00) per bushel for grain sorghums; and 86 cents per bushel for barley.

The same alternate crops as approved for 1972 may be grown on set-aside in 1973. These are castor beans, crambe, guar, mustard seed, plantago ovato, safflower, sesame and sunflower. The payment reduction if alternate crops are grown on set-aside land will be equal to 30 percent of the average payment rate under Option A. This will be true whether the farmer is participating under Option A, Option B, or the Wheat Program.

Those interested in obtaining more details should check with the ASCS County Office, Stump said.

Ex-Lassie Character Held On Pot Charges

ARROYO GRANDE, Calif. (AP) — Tommy Rettig, the former child actor who appeared as Lassie's master on television in the 1950s, has been booked along with his wife for alleged marijuana violations.

Rettig, 31, and his wife, Darlene, 29, were arrested on their farm near the central California coast where detectives said they found 83 marijuana plants growing and a quantity of marijuana in various stages of processing.

The Yuletide season is always a joyful time of the year, however, don't let your holidays be spoiled by an accident. Statistics show that more accidents occur in December than in any other month. Be wary of those hazards the holidays bring. When driving, make safety your number one job. Be courteous and respect the rights of pedestrians and other drivers. Allow extra time for heavy traffic and slippery roads, and slow down in rain, darkness, and congested areas. Stay alert for the driver who has over-accelerated or overcelebrated, and expect the unexpected from pedestrians, too!

When walking, remember the extra dangers of slippery, crowded streets and early darkness. Use proper walking shoes to get maximum traction, and remember, it takes longer for cars to stop on ice and snow. This holiday season keep these lines in mind:

You don't buy good citizenship — you exercise it.

You don't acquire alertness — you practice it.

You don't purchase safety — you earn it.

On the road, courtesy is more than just a social grace... it is a moral responsibility. How about making courtesy your code of the road this holiday season.

Next week will be a busy time in department stores as consumers ask for exchanges and refunds and complain about Christmas purchases.

If you find that you must return merchandise, be a responsible consumer! Most retailers like satisfied customers. Here are some tips on how to return and exchange items, and if necessary, complain about possible unsatisfactory merchandise. Your consumer voice counts!

Be a good customer: Do you have a justified complaint? Have you read the instructions carefully? Did you use the item for its intended purpose? What are the conditions of the warranty, and is the time period still effective?

Do your part for easy exchanges: Don't wear or use the item if you immediately notice anything wrong. Promptly return the product with its sale bill if you use it and find something defective. Remember, reasonable merchandise loses value rapidly. Return the item to the salesperson you purchased it from, UNLESS the store has a separate exchange department. Return merchandise with its sale ticket, if possible. This is your proof of purchase - it protects both you and the retailer. Some items cannot be returned. Be sure to check the store's policy concerning intimate apparel, "sale," and non-returnable items. Know retail policies - whether the store prefers cash refunding, or giving credit or "due billing" for returned merchandise.

How to complain: What you should do when you lodge a complaint depends somewhat on the item. The American National Standards Institute suggests the following: You may (1) Return the item to the store where you purchased it, (2) Write to the store or manufacturer, or both.

Courtesy counts! Reliable manufacturers appreciate your letter of complaint, if it is business-like. Manufacturers want satisfied customers. Letters of complaint may alert companies to product trouble they didn't know existed.

Most manufacturers agree that complaints keep them alert and can even lead to increased profits.

REMEMBER! Complain only when you have a valid gripe! Not only about a money loss, but about rude salespeople, late deliveries, confusing warranties, deceptive advertising, and outright gyms.

Making justified complaints requires courage and patience. It takes time, but it is the best way to be a good consumer. A good consumer is a satisfied customer.

Consider Taxes In Determining Proper Time To Sell Cash Crops

By GEORGE HAMRICK

County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Are you holding beans or corn that you are waiting to sell at the highest possible price? It may pay to consider the tax consequences of a sale now, versus waiting until 1973.

If you are one of the unfortunate ones who has had a bad year, it may look easy to wait and sell your cash crops next year. By doing this, you may not owe any Federal income tax for the 1972 tax year.

Let's look at an example and see how much corn or bean prices would have to go up to make holding worthwhile. If you have 2,500 bu. of beans or 7,130 bu. of corn in storage, these are worth approximately $10,000 at today's prices. Let's assume that if you do not sell these before the end of the year, you will not have any Federal income taxes to pay. If you do sell them this year, are married, filed a joint return, and have a taxable income of $10,000, your Federal income tax liability will be $1,820.

Now let's suppose that you decide to hold the corn or beans until next year. If you sell your 1973 crop at harvest, or have other taxable income on 1973 of $10,000, and we assume that 1973 tax rates are the same as the 1972 rates, your tax on this would be $1,820. If you add the $10,000 income from the sale of the 1972 crop in 1973, your tax liability (assuming 1972 rates) on $20,000 would be $4,380.

The taxes against the 1972 corn or beans sold in 1973 would be $2,560, which is the difference between $1,820 and $4,380. Thus in this example, there would be an additional $740 of Federal income tax from postponing sale until 1973. In order to pay the additional tax and break even, soybean prices would have to go up approximately 30 cents per bushel, and corn prices by about 10 cents per bushel. One should also consider the importance of keeping farm income high enough to qualify for Social Security.

Of course if your taxable farm income for 1972 is high than the income you expect in 1973, there would be a tax advantage to holding storable crops until the beginning of next year. Also, if your 1972 income is 120 percent, plus $3,000, of your average income for the last four years, you may qualify for income averaging. If you think you may qualify, you will need to obtain a Schedule G.

Thus, it is easy to see the importance of considering the tax consequences of buying and selling in one year rather than another. However, caution must be used to refrain from making business transactions solely in an effort to reduce taxes, because net income after taxes may actually be lower. For example, if your income is usually high and you purchase a farm machine for depreciation deduction and investment credit you can lower your tax liability, but if you really did not have adequate use for the machine, your net farm profit after taxes could suffer.

Feed Grain Program Explained To Farmers

A preliminary explanation of the newly-announced 1973 Feed Grain Program is being mailed to Pickaway county farmers reports George E. Stump, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"As they sort through their Christmas mail, I hope they find the explanation and put it aside for special attention," he said, explaining it is the first official word to be sent directly to farmers on the major provisions of the 1973 Feed Grain Program.

Sign-up for the 1973 feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs begins February 5 at ASCS county offices and continues through March 16.

The 1973 Feed Grain Program includes barley, corn, and grain sorghum, and producers may elect to participate under one of two options.

Option A requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 30 percent of a farm's feed grain base. Payment will be on an acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. Per acre payment ranges will equal to the farm program yield times 35 cents for corn, 33 cents for grain sorghum, and 28 cents for barley. A supplemental payment is possible if a five-month national average price plus the payment is less than 70 percent of parity. Feed grain acreage on farms signed up in Option A will be limited only by set-aside and conserving base requirements.

Option B requires an acreage set-aside equivalent to 15 percent of farm's feed grain base. Farmers electing to participate under this plan agree to limit their 1973 total feed grain acreage to the total acreage certified as planted for harvest in 1972 and also agree to forego supplemental payments. Payment will be on acreage equal to one-half of each feed grain base established for the farm. The per acre payment rates will be equal to the farm program yield times 24 cents for corn, 23 cents for grain sorghum, and 20 cents for barley.

Under either option, substitution of wheat in excess of the allotment and soybeans planted for harvest as beans will be considered as feed grain for purposes of preserving feed grain base history for the farm.

Commodity loans will be available to all participants in the feed grain program on the farm's entire production. National average loan rates will be $1.08 per bushel for corn (No. 2 basis); $1.79 per hundredweight (1.00) per bushel for grain sorghums; and 86 cents per bushel for barley.

The same alternate crops as approved for 1972 may be grown on set-aside in 1973. These are castor beans, crambe, guar, mustard seed, plantago ovato, safflower, sesame and sunflower. The payment reduction if alternate crops are grown on set-aside land will be equal to 30 percent of the average payment rate under Option A. This will be true whether the farmer is participating under Option A. Option B, or the Wheat Program.

Those interested in obtaining more details should check with the ASCS County Office, Stump said.

Wool, Lamb Payments Application May Be Filed

As soon as marketing is completed, producers who plan to file for incentive payments on wool and unshorn lambs are asked to bring the sales documents to the County ASCS Office.

A special reminder was given that growers who marketed unshorn lambs this fall may apply for payment. "Payments authorized under the National Wool Act apply to unshorn lambs, as well as shorn wool. This is to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing, which could result in shorter, lower quality wool," said George E. Stump, Chairman of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Sales documents brought in by producers should include name and address of the seller, date of sale, net weight of wool sold, number of head and liveweight of unshorn lambs sold, gross and net proceeds, and name, address and signature of the buyer.

Hints To Extend The Life Of Christmas Poinsettia

By GEORGE HAMRICK

County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Many of you have already or will soon receive a poinsettia to brighten your home during the Christmas holidays. It's a toughful "side" gift for the "hubby" and an excellent gift for a friend.

And, you'll likely want to stretch the life of your poinsettia as long as possible, even throughout the year and into the next Christmas season. It can be done. It doesn't take magic or even a green thumb, says D. C. Kiplinger of the Ohio State University Department of Horticulture. It takes patience and care.

Place it near a sunny window where it will get the most available sunlight. A window which faces south, east, or west is better than one facing north. Don't let any part of the plant touch the cold window pane because this may injure it. Put the plant where you want to while having company.

Keep it in bloom with a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees during the daylight hours and move it to a cooler place at night. Since root rot disease is more prevalent at temperatures below 60 degrees, don't put the poinsettia in a room cooler than this.

Avoid exposing the plant to hot and cold drafts which may cause premature leaf drop.

Examine the soil daily and when the surface is dry to the touch, water the soil until it runs freely out the drainage hole in the bottom of the container. If a receptacle is used under the pot, soil that is too wet will lack sufficient air. This condition will injure the roots. Don't let the plant wilt or it will drop its leaves prematurely.

Poinsettias can be reflowered the second Christmas, you know, but unless a year-long schedule of care is practiced, the results usually aren't too good. If you're game and want to try it, here's what to do.

Continue normal watering of the soil until the first of April. Then allow the soil to dry gradually. Don't let it get so dry at any time that the stems shrivel. This is a sign of dying. After the drying period, store the plant in a cool (60 degree) airy location.

In the middle of May, cut the stems back to about four inches above the soil and replant in a pot 1 to 2 inches larger in diameter. Use a fresh potting soil mixture. Water thoroughly after repotting; wait five minutes and water again. Then put the plant near a window that is exposed to the most sunlight. Keep it at a temperature of 70 to 75 degrees and water when soil feels dry to the touch. After new growth appears, fertilize every two weeks with a complete-analysis, water-soluble fertilizer at the rate recommended on the label.

Move the plant outdoors in early June. Place it in a lightly shaded location and continue watering and fertilizing. Remove 1 inch of terminal growth in early July. Then between August 15 and September 1, cut or pinch the new stems back, allowing three to four leaves to remain on each shoot. Move the plant indoors and place it near the sunny window. Maintain temperature at 65 to 70 degrees and continue watering and fertilizing.

Poinsettias are short-day plants. This means they flower about 10 weeks after the length of daylight shortens to 11 hours or less. Therefore, to have the plant in full flower by Christmas, keep it in complete darkness between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. from the first of October until Thanksgiving. During this period any kind of light exposure between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. will delay flowering. A closet, opaque box, or opaque cloth will keep the plant in darkness during these hours.

Remember to put the plant near a sunny window in the daytime and continue to fertilize the plant until mid-

Group Of Ohioans Locate Businesses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A group of Ohioans in New York have located 42 prospects for expansion or location of businesses in the state over a two year period, Gov. John J. Gilligan's office announced Friday.

The Ohio Development Team said 12 firms have indicated plans for immediate location or expansion in Ohio. The other 30 anticipate long-range expansions or locations in the next two years.

Jacksonville Zoo Director Fascinated By Elephants

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Joel D. Wallach, who will become director of the Jacksonville, Fla., Zoological Park Jan. 1, deals with more than 600 species of animals but the elephant fascinates him most.

"They will survive when other animals die. Their adaptability, their ability to reproduce . . . all the things they can do," he added.

Dr. Wallach, assistant director of the Brookfield Zoo, is a veterinarian by training and is highly regarded for his research in tranquilizing wild animals and ability to develop mixed species exhibits.

"We don't like to mix continents but we had Siberian Ibex in with African baboons at Brookfield and it worked well. There is a certain artistic license with zoos. Whatever is effective is acceptable," he said.

At Brookfield, Dr. Wallach puts on a diver's mask and goes into the environment of the 800-pound dolphins.

He is not concerned about being accidentally swiped by a dolphin's tail.

"For some reason, they have an unspoken agreement with man . . . I don't know of anyone who's ever been injured by a dolphin," he said.

Dr. Wallach grew up in St. Louis and became fascinated by animals when he worked during his high school years at the children's zoo. He has spent a great deal of time in Africa studying animal behavior.

"It gives you an apprehension the first time you are on foot out on the grass plains. But when you learn when a rhino or lion will charge and when they will stop, you lose the apprehension."

"If you use the wind and the bushes they can't see or smell you and they lose interest. Except for the elephants. They put on methodical search-and-destroy missions. If an elephant wants to get you, he will," he said.

Wool, Lamb Payments Application May Be Filed

As soon as marketing is completed, producers who plan to file for incentive payments on wool and unshorn lambs are asked to bring the sales documents to the County ASCS Office.

Sales documents brought in by producers should include name and address of the seller, date of sale, net weight of wool sold, number of head and liveweight of unshorn lambs sold, gross and net proceeds, and name, address and signature of the buyer.

Wool sales prices are needed, Mr. Stump explained, to determine the incentive payment rate — the percentage necessary to bring the average return for all wool marketed up to the incentive level of 72 cents a pound.

Each applicant's payment is determined by applying the national percentage figure to the individual's net return from sale of wool. In this way, growers who market the wool in most demand, and who do the best job of selling it, receive the highest incentive return.

When the necessary sales documents are brought to the County ASCS Office, personnel there will assist producers in completing payment applications. Payments will be made next April on wool and unshorn lambs marketed this year. Applications should be made by the end of January, 1973, but may be made at any time after the wool and lambs are marketed.

A Page Of Opinion

A New World

Brazil is in the midst of an ambitious program to develop huge expanses of its interior which are now largely untouched. The results could be a dramatic economic breakthrough for one of the world's largest countries.

With an area larger than the continental United States, Brazil contains most of its 93 million people in a few coastal cities. The vast Amazon basin, believed to hold great stores of minerals and other resources, remains a wilderness.

Knifing through the dense jungle is a 2,100-mile highway. It is the opening wedge not only to Brazil's interior but to a number of neighboring countries. Scheduled for completion in four years, the $133 million highway will provide a connecting link all the way from Brazil's northeastern expanse to the Bolivian border.

It is too early to tell the full scope of development which the "Northern Perimeter," as the highway is called, will bring. Opening such a vast undeveloped territory is tantamount to discovering a new world. The rewards will be large. Sufficient, perhaps, to encourage Brazil's neighbors to follow its example through the rest of the Amazon basin.

Christmas: The War's End?

By JEFFREY HART

We are now most of the way through the season of Advent, and Christmas is upon us; and, simultaneously, we are, one hopes, at the end of another war. The end, alas, is ambiguous, but it is possible to suspect, especially at this season, that the end of most or even all wars is ambiguous, the fact concealed by peace treaties, instruments of surrender, proclamations of victory and so on.

After all, we won both world wars hands down, and the enemy was thoroughly prostrate, yet neither war secured the lasting dominance of the victor, and the solidly based power of the vanquished soon reasserted itself. The North entirely defeated the South in our Civil War; yet today, the racial issue still unsettled, the South has become the fulcrum of our national politics, and given the Wallace vote in Michigan and elsewhere it is at least arguable that the states of the old Union are in the process of being Southernized. The deeper currents of history seem only to be deflected, not really changed, by war.

Which is not to say that the things men fight for at a given moment are invalid: the resistance to the Kaiser or to Hitler, the struggle to preserve the Union, and so forth. It is only to reflect that from the longer perspective all such issues seem somehow to be overtaken and enclosed by later events. Britain both won and lost World War II — as did Germany.

In a passage in what I consider the greatest poem written in the twentieth century, "Little Gidding," T. S. Eliot reflects upon the English Civil War, one of the most savage and divisive struggles of the modern era, the sides utterly unreconcilable, Puritan and Parliamentarian against King and Church of England.

Eliot's sympathies lie almost entirely with the defeated Royalists, yet in this poem, two and a half centuries later, he buries the hatchet. The old issues have been overtaken by time. The opposing sides now seem to have more in common with each other than either has with the issues of today or with us. They were "All touched by a common genius, United in the strife which divided them." Eliot thinks of the defeated King, is reminded of the Crucifixion, and recalls the poet Milton, and others who paid a high price for their rival loyalties: "I think of a king at nightfall. Of three men, and more, on the scaffold. And a few who died forgotten in other places, here and abroad, And of one who died blind and quiet."

From the perspective of this poem, eternity is the reality, a realm beyond time, and the old partisans are now outside history. "These men, and those who opposed them, And those whom they opposed, Accept the constitution of silence, And are folded in a single party." Even as history itself moves on — "We cannot revive old factions" — the Puritans and Royalists are united in death and in eternity, even as are the rival Franciscans and Dominicans in Dante's Paradise.

In a very modest way I myself had a hint of such a perception last winter while on a skiing vacation in Austria. I was walking idly in the churchyard of the local rural church waiting for Sunday morning Mass, and I noticed something odd about the monuments in the tiny cemetery there. They were intricate, wrought-iron crosses a couple of feet high, set in rows, but they also had — apparently the custom in that region — small glass-covered photographs of the dead person attached to the intersection in the cross.

I was startled to see that a good many of the faces were those of very young men, boys even, and that they wore the familiar field-grey uniform of the German army in World War II. They had fought for Hitler! They had fought us! Yet they did not look much different from the pleasant young Austrians I had been skiing with all week; and if, from the perspective of 1945 those men from this tiny village had been on the "wrong" side, now, a generation later, that seemed hardly to matter. The fact that they had once existed but now no longer did, at least in time, moved into the foreground, along with musings on their courage, patriotism and self-sacrifice. As Eliot puts it, "Whatever we inherit from the fortunate, We have taken from the defeated, What they had to leave us — a symbol: A symbol perfected in death."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

About noon last June 3 our 16-year-old daughter, Jean Ann, and 6-year-old son, John, were involved in an auto accident. They were quite seriously hurt, but John was able to start back to school this fall.

Jean was in the hospital until the middle of October and still is in traction here at home. Hopefully, she will be out of that Jan. 13.

We feel that it is only by the wonderful grace of God that we have them with us this Christmas. During the first two weeks our children were in the hospital, we stayed with them around the clock. Having sold our home, we had to move, and our wonderful neighbors and friends moved us to our present home. They stayed with our children and helped us in every way possible.

While Jean Ann and John were in the hospital, Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover and Circleville Police Sergeant Wes Barton were frequent visitors. We did not know either of them before the day of the accident.

The entire hospital staff was very kind and the children could have had no better care anywhere.

May God bless you, each and everyone, and Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Yours truly,

Dear Editor:

At midnight, Dec. 12, my wife and I were awakened by a brilliant flash seen through our bedroom window. A brief investigation indicated our electric service was partially disrupted by a break in the power line leading into our home.

We called South Central Power Company and related the problem to the Service Dispatcher. The sounds in the background indicated much activity, but he managed to be cheerful and attentive, assuring us there was a crew in the area and they would arrive at my home soon.

Two hours later our service was restored.

Till now this sounds "routine" until you consider the temperature was in the 30's, one half inch (1/2") of rain fell during this two hour period, the "break" was amid a grove of trees and the wind was gusting to 40 M.P.H.

The purpose of this letter is to publicly commend these men who so unselfishly and thru uncommon endeavor, dedicated themselves to the task of maintaining an atmosphere of comfort and well being with-in my home, seemingly unaware of their own personal sacrifice.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

To all people who may be interested. We have had some very bad driving weather so far this year. It seems there have been one or two days each week, that we've had ice storms.

I want to thank anyone and everyone connected with the road work. I have heard quite a few comments from friends about how early the trucks were out since that first big "surprise" snow. The truck went by our house 15 minutes before the high school bus one morning, and we heard news early on school closings.

Your concern and action are very much appreciated by this household and many others. Thank you again and let all continue to work together.

Very Sincerely,
MRS. DONNA CHRISTENSEN

"One of nature's truly awe-inspiring works of art and all you can say is 'groovy'?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When a man is awarded the Nobel Prize in science, he and his work always seem to be enshrouded in mysticism. The intricacies of scientific research appear vague and imponderable and rarely do we seem to reap the immediate dividends of such dedicated study.

Dr. Gerald M. Edelman of Rockefeller University, New York City, and Dr. Rodney R. Porter of Cambridge University in England recently received the Nobel Prize because they "clarified the molecular structure and function of antibodies."

Now, that sounds vague enough to discourage our interest until we really learn how magnificent their contribution is to mankind.

Possible control of cancer, the understanding of body rejection of transplants, and the control of a vast group of yet unmanageable diseases, are the gifts that finally filter down to all of us.

These and other scientists would gratefully accept the joy of saving one additional life as a far greater gift than Nobel Prize recognition.

The age-old problem of heartburn still confuses those who suffer from it and the doctors who are consulted. The confusion probably stems from the fact that heartburn is a vague term patients use indiscriminately to describe almost any uncomfortable sensation.

Heartburn usually results when some of the gastric, or stomach, juices and acids flow back into the esophagus.

Dr. C. Stanciu and Dr. John R. Bennett in Hull, England, have been studying the relationship between cigaret-smoking and heartburn. Very complex measuring devices were set up in an effort to study exactly how cigarettes increased the presence of stomach acid in the esophagus.

After coordinating all their data, they came to the very definite conclusion that cigarettes were definitely one of the major causes of heartburn. The doctors make a simple, dogmatic assertion. They say, "If heartburn is your problem, stop smoking."

There are, of course, other reasons for heartburn. If the symptom does not disappear when a suspected underlying disorder is removed, cling to the possibility that cigarettes may be the culprit.

Patients with special types of fractures of the long leg bones are now able to walk painlessly with their full weight after about one week of surgery. This is owing to a new type of cement recently described and used by Dr. James O. Johnson of the University of California. In conjunction with doctors at Harvard University and the Bowman Gray Medical School, he has been using this new and experimental type of cement. Reports are encouraging and it is hoped that many other types of fractures may eventually be fused in this way.

NEW YORK (AP) — Looking for a last-minute Christmas present for an overlooked friend?

Then why not give him that most splendid of all gifts, a good book? A book is a gift from one heart to another heart, from one kindred spirit to another.

A book has many advantages. Its upkeep is minimal, since it needs neither fuel nor repairs. It doesn't wear out, and often can help inspire the receiver for a lifetime. It even can be handed down from generation to generation. It can refresh or renew many minds, not just one.

Books are always acceptable and always in fashion. In many homes a new book is placed atop the television set now and then just to let visitors know that some members of the family still remain literate even in the heyday of the picture tube.

Finally, you always get more than your money's worth in a good book. It is a thing of recognized value in all civilizations. In terms of the inspiration it may possibly provide, that value at times can be priceless.

Of course, when giving books as presents, it is highly important that the right book be given to the right person. Each should suit the other.

Here, for example, and all in fun, is a selection from current titles of some books that might be fitting to give to some well known people:

"Open Marriage" — Zsa Zsa Gabor.
"Jonathan Livingston Seagull" — Your parrot or parakeet.
"5000 Nights at the Opera" — to Aristotle Onassis from Maria Callas.
"Semi-Tough" — Henry A. Kissinger.
"The Winds of War" — President Thieu of Vietnam.
"The Exorcist" — Norman Vincent Peale.
"Supermoney" — J. Paul Getty.
"The Best and the Brightest" — Spiro Agnew.
"I'm Okay-You're Okay" — President Nixon.
"To Serve Them All My Days" — Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley.
"The Years Alone" — George McGovern.

"Waiting for the Morning Train" — Any Long Island Rail Road commuter.
"Women and Madness" — Dr. Joyce Brothers.
"The Joy of Sex" — Johnny Carson.
"Dark Horse" — John Connally.
"Bobby Fischer's Chess Games" — Boris Spassky.
"The Greening of America" — Any captain of industry.
"The Doll" — Phyllis Diller.
"The Dream Team" — Members of President Nixon's new Cabinet.
"The Word" — Margaret Mead.

A New World

Brazil is in the midst of an ambitious program to develop huge expanses of its interior which are now largely untouched. The results could be a dramatic economic breakthrough for one of the world's largest countries.

With an area larger than the continental United States, Brazil contains most of its 93 million people in a few coastal cities. The vast Amazon basin, believed to hold great stores of minerals and other resources, remains a wilderness.

Knifing through the dense jungle is a 2,100-mile highway. It is the opening wedge not only to Brazil's interior but to a number of neighboring countries. Scheduled for completion in four years, the $133 million highway will provide a connecting link all the way from Brazil's northeastern expanse to the Bolivian border.

It is too early to tell the full scope of development which the "Northern Perimeter," as the highway is called, will bring. Opening such a vast undeveloped territory is tantamount to discovering a new world. The rewards will be large. Sufficient, perhaps, to encourage Brazil's neighbors to follow its example through the rest of the Amazon basin.

Christmas: The War's End?

By JEFFREY HART

We are now most of the way through the season of Advent, and Christmas is upon us; and, simultaneously, we are, one hopes, at the end of another war. The end, alas, is ambiguous, but it is possible to suspect, especially at this season, that the end of most or even all wars is ambiguous, the fact concealed by peace treaties, instruments of surrender, proclamations of victory and so on.

After all, we won both world wars hands down, and the enemy was thoroughly prostrate, yet neither war secured the lasting dominance of the victor, and the solidly based power of the vanquished soon reasserted itself. The North entirely defeated the South in our Civil War; yet today, the racial issue still unsettled, the South has become the fulcrum of our national politics, and given the Wallace vote in Michigan and elsewhere it is at least arguable that the states of the old Union are in the process of being Southernized. The deeper currents of history seem only to be deflected, not really changed, by war.

Which is not to say that the things men fight for at a given moment are invalid: the resistance to the Kaiser or to Hitler, the struggle to preserve the Union, and so forth. It is only to reflect that from the longer perspective all such issues seem somehow to be overtaken and enclosed by later events. Britain both won and lost World War II — as did Germany.

In a passage in what I consider the greatest poem written in the twentieth century, "Little Gidding," T. S. Eliot reflects upon the English Civil War, one of the most savage and divisive struggles of the modern era, the sides utterly unreconcilable, Puritan and Parliamentarian against King and Church of England.

Eliot's sympathies lie almost entirely with the defeated Royalists, yet in this poem, two and a half centuries later, he buries the hatchet. The old issues have been overtaken by time. The opposing sides now seem to have more in common with each other than either has with the issues of today or with us. They were "All touched by a common genius, United in the strife which divided them." Eliot thinks of the defeated King, is reminded of the Crucifixion, and recalls the poet Milton, and others who paid a high price for their rival loyalties: "I think of a king at nightfall, Of three men, and more, on the scaffold, And a few who died forgotten in other places, here and abroad, And of one who died blind and quiet."

From the perspective of this poem, eternity is the reality, a realm beyond time, and the old partisans are now outside history. "These men, and those who opposed them, And those whom they opposed, Accept the constitution of silence, And are folded in a single party." Even as history itself moves on — "We cannot revive old factions" — the Puritans and Royalists are united in death and in eternity, even as are the rival Franciscans and Dominicans in Dante's Paradiso.

In a very modest way I myself had a hint of such a perception last winter while on a skiing vacation in Austria. I was walking idly in the churchyard of the local rural church waiting for Sunday morning Mass, and I noticed something odd about the monuments in the tiny cemetery there. They were intricate, wrought-iron crosses a couple of feet high, set in rows, but they also had — apparently the custom in that region — small glass-covered photographs of the dead person attached to the intersection in the cross.

I was startled to see that a good many of the faces were those of very young men, boys even, and that they wore the familiar field-grey uniform of the German army in World War II. They had fought for Hitler! They had fought us! Yet they did not look much different from the pleasant young Austrians I had been skiing with all week; and if, from the perspective of 1945 those men from this tiny village had been on the "wrong" side, now, a generation later, that seemed hardly to matter. The fact that they had once existed but now no longer did, at least in time, moved into the foreground, along with musings on their courage, patriotism and self-sacrifice. ## Miss Ranay LaRue Smith Engaged To Ralph E. Roby

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ranay LaRue, to Ralph E. Roby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Roby, Route 4, Circleville.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and Nationwide

Beauty Academy. She is currently associated with See's Salon of Beauty.

Mr. Roby is also a graduate of Logan Elm High School and has attended Ohio University. He is currently serving in the United States Air Force at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

The couple has selected the month of March for their wedding.

Good Shepherd Church Circle Holds Last Meeting Of Year

Circle 3 of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church held its last meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Forrest Schlegler, 391 Kingston Pike. There were 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Francis Azbell present.

Mrs. David Bond, leader, presided over the business meeting. She presented some thoughts on Christmas and prayer.

A report was given on the visit to Pickaway Manor in November when 11 members and four guests participated in the service and each received a blessing.

Announcement was made that the new circles would be meeting for the first time in January and continue as those groups for the next two years.

Mrs. Donald Watson served as program leader. She began with prayer followed by Mrs. Bessie Pierce reading the poem "Way Back When." Mrs. Francis Azbell then read the Christmas story from Luke 2:1-20. "Joy To The World" and "Hark The Herald Angels Sing" were sung by all present.

Mrs. Watson asked the members to think about time and said that Christmas is a time for remembering. Mrs. Evelyn Dunkle told how Christmas was a time for remembrance for her. Mrs. Maxine Woltz told why Christmas was a time of love for her and Mrs. Launa Wynkoop told how Christmas was a time for patience.

Members sang "O Holy Night" accompanied by Miss Lucille Kirkwood. Mrs. Mary Bond closed the program with prayer.

A Christmas gift exchange was held and salad course was served for refreshments by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Suzanne.

Office Decorated By Garden Club

Members of Pickaway County Garden Club have brightened the interior of the Chamber of Commerce office for the holiday season.

Composed entirely of various types and sizes of cones, trimmed with a dark copper-toned bow, a large wreath hangs on the wall. It is suitable to the antique decor of the reception room. Coordinating, white pine and pinion cones with copper-toned candle focus attention on a gold madonna at the registration desk.

At all times of the year, Linn's Hallmark Gallery provides a seasonal arrangement to the Chamber of Commerce. These and other similar gifts help welcome newcomers to the community, as well as to provide enjoyment to regular visitors to the Chamber.

Personals

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Davis S. Corzilius and children, Brian, Susan, Cynthia and David Bruce of Bitburg, Germany are spending the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Clifton, 307 S. Court St., Circleville.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday Dec. 23, the 358th day of 1972. There are eight days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1783, George Washington resigned as commander in chief of the American Army and retired to his home at Mount Vernon in Virginia.

On this date: In 1788, Maryland voted to cede an area 10 miles square for the seat of the national government.

In 1805, Mormon leader Joseph Smith was born in Sharon, Vt.

In 1832, the French took the city of Antwerp and forced Holland to recognize the independence of Belgium.

In 1947, the first transistor was operated by Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, N.J. The invention revolutionized the electronics industry.

In 1948, former Premier Hideki Tojo of Japan and six other Japanese war leaders were executed in Tokyo.

In 1960, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt warned that any attempt by Israel to create an atomic bomb would mean war with Egypt.

Circleville Pythian Sisters Prepare For Installation

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple 516 held its final meeting of 1972 Thursday evening in the K of P lodge hall with 29 members attending.

Billie Osborne, most excellent chief, presided at the business session. A Christmas letter was read from the Grand Temple officers. Eleanor Fisher, having a birthday this month, was honored.

A poem in keeping with the Christmas season was read by Mrs. Osborne. She presented each of her officers and staff members with a gift in appreciation for their cooperation with her during the past year.

Following the discussion of business, members enjoyed a social hour with a carry-in dinner.

Serving on committee's were: Laura Rector, Katherine Mead and Elma Rains, food; Walden Reichelderfer and Lloyd and Eleanor Fisher, entertainment; Norma Toland, Carolyn Young and Ethel Lane, decorations.

A gift exchange was held and contest prizes were won by Helen Wilkin, Shirley Moody, Katherine Mead, Opal Vance, Lucille Montgomery and Eleanor Fisher.

Garnet Reichelderfer, grand chief, announced a Christmas party will be held at the Springfield K of P Home on Dec. 23rd.

The next meeting of Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple will be held Jan. 4th. Past chiefs will be honored with officers in charge.

Ethel Lane, degree staff captain, announced a practice session for installation will be held. Majors Temple officers will be installed at a joint open installation with the officers of Philos Lodge 64 Knights of Pythias 8 p.m. Jan. 8th at the temple. Installing officer will be Garnet Reichelderfer, grand chief.

Screening Of Students Shows Little Syphilis

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University officials, Friday, said that only five of the 636 students involved in a student sponsored syphilis screening program last month showed positive signs of syphilis.

Earlier reports from a doctor at the Student Health Center had the figure in the hundreds.

MISS RANAY L. SMITH

Miss Ranay LaRue Smith Engaged To Ralph E. Roby

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ranay LaRue, to Ralph E. Roby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Roby, Route 4, Circleville.

Miss Smith is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and Nationwide

Beauty Academy. She is currently associated with See's Salon of Beauty.

Mr. Roby is also a graduate of Logan Elm High School and has attended Ohio University. He is currently serving in the United States Air Force at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

The couple has selected the month of March for their wedding.

Good Shepherd Church Circle Holds Last Meeting Of Year

Circle 3 of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church held its last meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Forrest Schlegler, 391 Kingston Pike. There were 15 members and one guest, Mrs. Francis Azbell present.

Mrs. David Bond, leader, presided over the business meeting. She presented some thoughts on Christmas and prayer.

A report was given on the visit to Pickaway Manor in November when 11 members and four guests participated in the service and each received a blessing.

Announcement was made that the new circles would be meeting for the first time in January and continue as those groups for the next two years.

Mrs. Donald Watson served as program leader. She began with prayer followed by Mrs. Bessie Pierce reading the poem "Way Back When." Mrs. Francis Azbell then read the Christmas story from Luke 2:1-20. "Joy To The World" and "Hark The Herald Angels Sing" were sung by all present.

Mrs. Watson asked the members to think about time and said that Christmas is a time for remembering. Mrs. Evelyn Dunkle told how Christmas was a time for remembrance for her. Mrs. Maxine Woltz told why Christmas was a time of love for her and Mrs. Launa Wynkoop told how Christmas was a time for patience.

Members sang "O Holy Night" accompanied by Miss Lucille Kirkwood. Mrs. Mary Bond closed the program with prayer.

A Christmas gift exchange was held and salad course was served for refreshments by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Suzanne.

Office Decorated By Garden Club

Members of Pickaway County Garden Club have brightened the interior of the Chamber of Commerce office for the holiday season.

Composed entirely of various types and sizes of cones, trimmed with a dark coppertone bow, a large wreath hangs on the wall. It is suitable to the antique decor of the reception room. Coordinating, white pine and pinion cones with coppertone candle focus attention on a gold madonna at the registration desk.

At all times of the year, Linn's Hallmark Gallery provides a seasonal arrangement to the Chamber of Commerce. These and other similar gifts help welcome newcomers to the community, as well as to provide enjoyment to regular visitors to the Chamber.

Personals

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Davis S. Corzilius and children, Brian, Susan, Cynthia and David Bruce of Bitburg, Germany are spending the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Clifton, 307 S. Court St., Circleville.

Calendar

THURSDAY
Berger Hospital Guild 20, 8 p.m. in home of Mary Clark, Route 2.

Guild Sets Meeting

Berger Hospital Guild 20 will hold its holiday meeting 8 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mary Clark, Route 2. Mrs. Ralph Stevenson Jr., will be co-hostess. Members plan to exchange Christmas gifts.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday Dec. 23, the 358th day of 1972. There are eight days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1783, George Washington resigned as commander in chief of the American Army and retired to his home at Mount Vernon in Virginia.

On this date: In 1788, Maryland voted to cede an area 10 miles square for the seat of the national government.

In 1805, Mormon leader Joseph Smith was born in Sharon, Vt.

In 1832, the French took the city of Antwerp and forced Holland to recognize the independence of Belgium.

In 1947, the first transistor was operated by Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill, N.J. The invention revolutionized the electronics industry.

In 1948, former Premier Hideki Tojo of Japan and six other Japanese war leaders were executed in Tokyo.

In 1960, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt warned that any attempt by Israel to create an atomic bomb would mean war with Egypt.

Circleville Pythian Sisters Prepare For Installation

Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple 516 held its final meeting of 1972 Thursday evening in the K of P lodge hall with 29 members attending.

Billie Osborne, most excellent chief, presided at the business session. A Christmas letter was read from the Grand Temple officers. Eleanor Fisher, having a birthday this month, was honored.

A poem in keeping with the Christmas season was read by Mrs. Osborne. She presented each of her officers and staff members with a gift in appreciation for their cooperation with her during the past year.

Following the discussion of business, members enjoyed a social hour with a carry-in dinner.

Serving on committee's were: Laura Rector, Katherine Mead and Elma Rains, food; Walden Reichelderfer

and Lloyd and Eleanor Fisher, entertainment; Norma Toland, Carolyn Young and Ethel Lane, decorations.

A gift exchange was held and contest prizes were won by Helen Wilkin, Shirley Moody, Katherine Mead, Opal Vance, Lucille Montgomery and Eleanor Fisher.

Garnet Reichelderfer, grand chief, announced a Christmas party will be held at the Springfield K of P Home on Dec. 23rd.

The next meeting of Pythian Sisters of Majors Temple will be held Jan. 4th. Past chiefs will be honored with officers in charge.

Ethel Lane, degree staff captain, announced a practice session for installation will be held. Majors Temple officers will be installed at a joint open installation with the officers of Philo Lodge 64 Knights of Pythias 8 p.m. Jan. 8th at the temple. Installing officer will be Garnet Reichelderfer, grand chief.

A card party will be held in the Teays Valley High School cafeteria Dec. 23, at 8 p.m. A three-month drawing will be held at this time. There will also be a card party on Dec. 30. Both events are sponsored by the Athletic Booster Club and the public is invited to attend.

The Bastian Funeral Home ambulance made the following runs recently:

Nov. 30 — took Robert Cantrell to Riverside Methodist Hospital; Dec. 1 — took Virgil Walden to Mt. Carmel Hospital;

Dec. 5 — took Mrs. Chapman of the Planeview Trailer Park to Doctors Hospital; Dec. 6 — took Mr. Willoughby of Scioto Street to Mercy Hospital;

Dec. 10 — took Florence Brown to Berger Hospital; Dec. 12 — took Kenny McManus to Berger Hospital;

Dec. 13 — returned Mr. Virgil Walden to his home; Dec. 14 — took C. J. Loy to Riverside Methodist Hospital;

Dec. 19 — took Mrs. Grace Spangler to Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Sonia Seymour has returned to her home from Doctors Hospital where she was a surgical patient.

Members of the Ashville Village United Methodist Junior UMYF went to the Cinema in Circleville to see the movie "The Cross and The Switchblade" on Nov. 26.

A meeting followed and they voted to sell Christmas Poinsettias. The proceeds to be used to send some Junior UMYF members to camp next summer. To obtain a poinsettia contact Mr. and Mrs. Gene Houser or any of the members.

The Junior Choir of the First English Lutheran Church will practice on Dec. 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Arthur Hines (Aunt Maude) will be celebrating her 90 birthday on Christmas Day. She resides at 28 Wright St., Ashville.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. David McCain on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McCain of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCain and family of Columbus, Mr. Lewis McCain, Mrs. Mary Lou Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCain and Miss Mary Kaiser all of Ashville.

The McCains celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary on Saturday. They were to have dinner out on Sunday and were unable to as Mr. McCain became ill quite suddenly.

The Zion United Methodist Church services Sunday, Dec. 24 will be 9:15 a.m. with the Childrens Christmas program being presented.

The Candlelight Service will be held at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend this service. The pastor, Rev. John Currens, and the church members welcome you.

Mr. Charles Grubb and Paula McNaughton were married in the First English Lutheran Church on Dec. 16 by Pastor Robert Michelfelder.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Dec. 19 were: High single game and three-game series, Delores Messick 193 and 522 with Ruth Mitchum also receiving a 522 for the high series; High team game Toole's Electric 665 and High team series, Morrison's Market, 1824.

First English Lutheran Church will hold it's Candlelight Service this Sunday evening at 11 p.m. The community is invited to attend.

The Ashville Community Club members will have its meeting on Dec. 28, in the K. P. Hall. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with the members' wives as guests. Tickets are available from George Myers and several other members. Installation of the newly elected officers will be held at this meeting.

A cantata "The Wonder of Christmas" will be presented by the Senior Choir of the Village United Methodist Church on Sunday at 11 p.m. The annual candle lighting service will be held following the cantata.

The basketball game played Tuesday evening between the Ashville Kiwanis and Circleville Kiwanis Club members proved to be a success both in victory and financial assistance toward the Jeff Beatty Fund. The evening of entertainment was sponsored by the local Key Club.

evening between the Ashville Kiwanis and Circleville Kiwanis Club members proved to be a success both in victory and financial assistance toward the Jeff Beatty Fund. The evening of entertainment was sponsored by the local Key Club.

Members of the victorious Ashville team were Charlie Morrison, Russ Toole, Bill Glitt, Gene VonIns, Larry Toole, Bill Welsh, Benny Lutz, Rodger Southward, Bob Holycross and Toad Moss. They were coached by Howard Hosler.

During the halftime of the game the annual auction of the first Kiwanis Newspaper was held with the highest bidder being Orlan Hines, representing the Ashville Bank. The proceeds from the sale of this copy were donated to the Jeff Beatty Fund by the club. Rolland Featheringham served as the auctioneer for the evening.

Plans have been made for the sale of the newspapers to be held in the village on Wednesday evening.

There will not be a regular meeting on Dec. 26, however, members are asked to sign in with Don Forquer. Ladies Night will be observed on Jan. 2 at the Coffee Shop for the Holiday Party.

The members would like to remind the residents of the community to save their stamps from envelopes and Christmas cards so they may be used for rehabilitation purposes for children. These may be turned in to Steve Cook or any Kiwanis Club member.

Newspapers are also being collected by the club and you may donate yours by contacting Rodger Southward.

L. V. Gross Retires From Du Pont

L. V. GROSS

L. V. Gross, Route 5, has elected to retire from Du Pont Company after more than 44 years of service.

Gross joined the company in September, 1928, as an operator in the Old Hickory Rayon Plant, Nashville, Tenn.

Approximately a year later he transferred to the cellophane plant at the same location. In 1947 he was promoted to position of foreman in manufacturing in the cellophane plant. He had various other foreman assignments in the Old Hickory plant until June, 1964, when he was transferred to the Circleville installation as manufacturing foreman in the finishing department.

He is an elder of the Church of Christ, North Court Street, and teaches an adult Bible class.

He and his wife, Anna, are the parents of a son, Halton, who works in the laboratory at the Old Hickory installation, and a daughter, Mrs. Leann Monroe, Tucson, Ariz.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY TOWNSHIP ZONING COMMISSION

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

In The Dog House Over A Pet

DEAR ABBY: A big dog in our neighborhood took the heads off two pet rabbits which belonged to my children. I telephoned the S.P.C.A. and told them to pick up that dog. I really feared for the small children in our neighborhood with such an animal running the streets.

Well, I didn't realize the mess this would get me into because while they were searching our neighborhood for that big dog, they picked up a small harmless dog and took him away because he had no tags and was running loose.

Now the owner of the small dog is furious because she knows I called the men who picked up her dog.

What would you have done in my place?

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Exactly what YOU did, so don't feel guilty. Laws are for the protection of all, and those who break them should pay the price.

DEAR ABBY: My husband plays cards with "the boys" one night a week. I don't mind that, but I do mind when he keeps it a big secret if he loses-or wins. Also, how much.

When I ask him how he came out, he gets angry and clams up. I think a wife has a right to know these things. Maybe he keeps his winnings a big secret because he doesn't want me to ask for anything extra from his winnings. On the other hand, maybe he keeps his losses a secret because he's ashamed or thinks maybe I'll try to keep him from playing if he loses too much.

Which of these theories do you think is correct?

CARD PLAYER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: BOTH!

DEAR ABBY: My very tall teen-aged daughter walked into a store the other day, and the saleslady loudly exclaimed, "My, there's a tall one for you!"

This absolutely destroyed my daughter's ego! That saleswoman would never have said, "My, there's a simply one for you!" Or, "My, that's a fat one for you."

Please remind your readers that personal remarks of this kind are cruel. Unusually tall girls don't need remarks to remind them they are taller than most girls their age.

I can't think of a clever way to sign except one that is too long, so feel free to doctor it if you wish.

MOM OF A 6 FT. GLORY

DEAR MOM: No doctoring necessary. Tell your "glory" to walk tall. She's potentially great model material.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing fast and am going to mail this before I lose my nerve. What do you do when you love your husband who is a lousy lover, and it's your fault because you have pretended a lot and made him think he was great, just to build his ego?

In eight years of marriage, I have been satisfied only twice, and that's no lie.

I have been 100 percent faithful to my husband (thank God thoughts don't count) but it is getting more difficult. I have been invited to go to bed with three different men this year, so maybe my hunger is obvious. The fact remaining I don't want to break up my home or anybody else's with an affair,

Blind Pupils Given Help

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Cincinnati Board of Education will be supplied with three electronic units from the federal government this spring to enable blind students to read anything.

The machines, furnished by the Department of Education, are called "Optacon," invented by Stanford University professor John Linvill.

Optacon, officials said, allows the blind person to direct the mechanism at a publication. The machine then reproduces the words in raised dots, similar to Braille.

There are 70 blind students attending Cincinnati schools.

"If it turns out as well as I think it will," said Eugene Stevens, director of special education, "we must get all those kids Optacons."

Pat Nixon Named

Most Admired Woman

NEW YORK (AP)— First Lady Pat Nixon says being named the world's most admired woman in a poll conducted by Good Housekeeping magazine "was indeed among my most cherished gifts" at Christmas.

"Surely there can be no greater challenge or more meaningful incentive than a warm personal tribute such as this," Mrs. Nixon wrote the magazine.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa Claus,

My name is Deejah Berard and I am 5 years old. And this is what I would like for christmas: a pair of boots, a doll, Play Family Houseboat, Winnie the Pooh TV.

And Santa, I have a little sister. Her name is Jada. And she would like the Inch Worm for Christmas and some clothes. And bring my Aunt Rocky some gifts. I would like to wish my Daddy a Merry Christmas and tell him I miss him. And I wish my Grandma Poling a merry Christmas too.

I will leave some cookies and milk under the tree for you.

Your friend,
Dejah Berard
Adelphi

Dear Santa,

I'm a twin 6 years old. I've been helping my parents. I want these things for Christmas. Please bring me a toss-across game, a toy gun with shoulder strap, kick ball, red-white-blue basketball and helicopter.

Meat Import Quotas Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has suspended meat import quotas for 1973 in an effort to stop the rise in supermarket meat prices.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, who announced the decision Thursday, cautioned that consumers should not expect a reduction in meat prices.

He said the action hopefully will halt the current rise and stabilize the price.

The nation has been operating without import quotas since July when Nixon removed the quotas then in effect. Shultz said some countries, notably Australia, responded to the July action by shipping larger quantities of meat.

Only about seven per cent of the meat on American markets comes from foreign sources. Shultz said this percentage probably would increase to eight per cent because of the suspension.

The total supply of meat available in America is expected to increase by three per cent, with much of the increase coming from domestic production, he said.

Shultz declined to comment on whether other steps would be taken to halt a rise in prices.

"This action," he said, "demonstrates the President's firm determination to hold the cost of food to the American consumer." He said the suspension was not aimed at American farmers.

"Our purpose is to remedy a short term shortage that is beyond the ability of our farmers to fill in 1973," he added. "The vigorous growth of employment and income we foresee in 1973 will mean an increase in the demand for meat in this country which, despite an increase in meat production, will put upward pressure on meat prices."

Duchess Of Windsor Wins Court Battle

PARIS (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor has won a court battle to have all of the unsold copies of the weekly "France Dimanche" seized.

A court ruled Wednesday that an article intimating that the duchess was thinking of remarrying was "an intolerable invasion of the private life of the Duchess of Windsor."

Santa and the ICE KING

by Lucrece Beale

SYNOPSIS: Santa and Onnik have found the Ice King a perfect mate in the Ice Queen of the South. The Ice King immediately asked the Ice Queen to come with him to the North. But she said she couldn't leave in the middle of the Southern Hemisphere winter. Then Santa pointed out that the Ice King wasn't need-ed in the North, because it should be summer there.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN A MERRY CHRISTMAS

The Ice King looked sheepish. "You are right," he said. "I had forgotten it's August and supposed to be summertime in Northern lands. I'm not needed there at all."

"So," said Santa, "you and the Ice Queen can stay here and make winter for the South Pole lands. Then, in December, when it's summertime at the bottom of the world, you and the Queen can come North and make winter at the top of the world."

"How wonderful!" exclaimed the Queen. "That way we'll always be together!"

"And we'll be able to make winter all year 'round," said the King happily.

"And no one will hate you," said Santa, "because everyone will have warm weather for the whole year."

Onnik held himself in no longer. "Hooray!" he shouted, jumping up and down. "Everything is settled. Let's hurry home and tell my people the news."

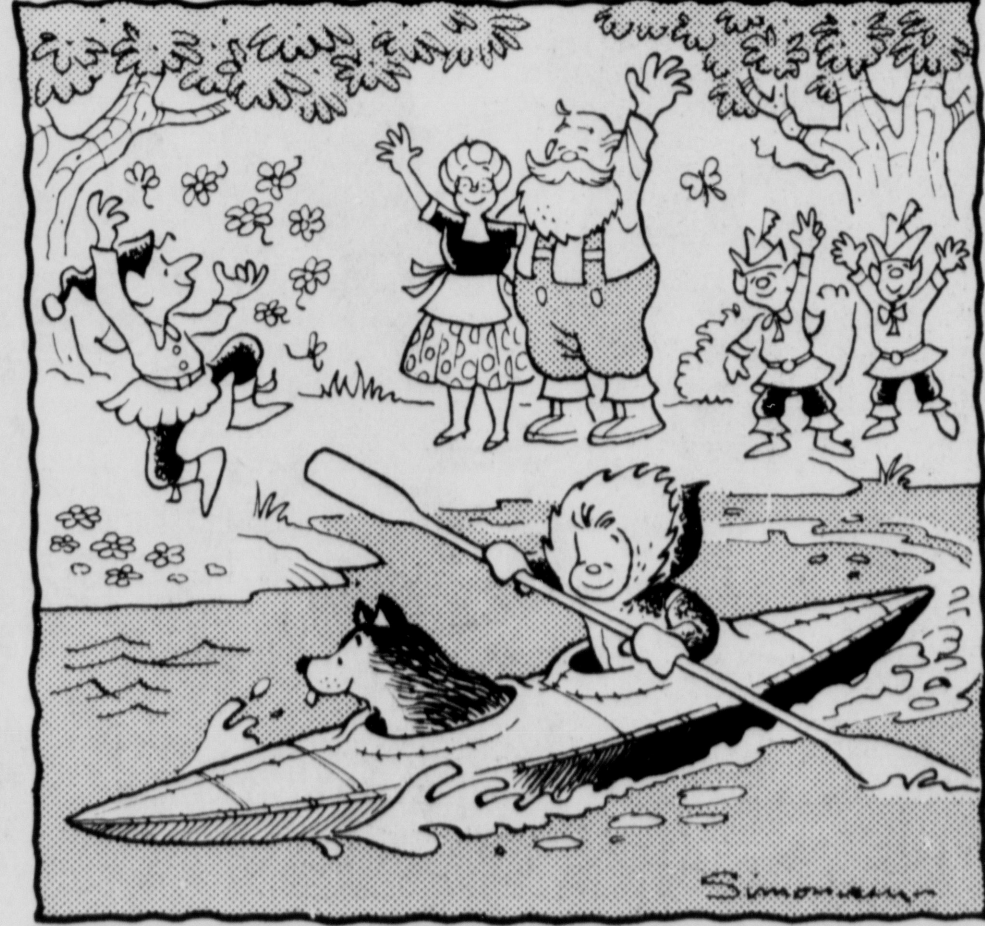

"They already know," said Santa, "for the Ice King has already been some days away from his job. But you are right, and I, too, must hurry back to my shops for I've a whole year's work ahead of me, and summer, if it has come, is almost gone."

The Ice King laughed. "Don't worry," he said. "I wouldn't be surprised if we're very slow coming up from our honeymoon and winter will have a late start this year in Eskimo land."

Santa and Onnik and Keotuk got on the sled but the polar bear wouldn't get on. He stood between the Ice King and the Ice Queen and refused to be coaxed away.

"Leave him here," said the Queen and King. "We three will rule the winters together."

So Onnik and Santa left them there and headed back for Santa Land. When they arrived they found that, sure enough the snow had already begun to melt and the frozen sea had broken up.

They all shouted "Merry Christmas!" as Onnik sped home.

The fairy land workers rushed out to greet them. "You did it!" cried crooked-legged Tweedleknies. "You conquered the Ice King!"

"Not conquered," said Santa with a smile. "We just made friends with him."

Meat Import Quotas Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has suspended meat import quotas for 1973 in an effort to stop the rise in supermarket meat prices.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, who announced the decision Thursday, cautioned that consumers should not expect a reduction in meat prices.

He said the action hopefully will halt the current rise and stabilize the price.

The nation has been operating without import quotas since July when Nixon removed the quotas then in effect. Shultz said some countries, notably Australia, responded to the July action by shipping larger quantities of meat.

Only about seven per cent of the meat on American markets comes from foreign sources. Shultz said this percentage probably would increase to eight per cent because of the suspension.

The total supply of meat available in America is expected to increase by three per cent, with much of the increase coming from domestic production, he said.

Shultz declined to comment on whether other steps would be taken to halt a rise in prices.

"This action," he said, "demonstrates the President's firm determination to hold the cost of food to the American consumer." He said the suspension was not aimed at American farmers.

"Our purpose is to remedy a short term shortage that is beyond the ability of our farmers to fill in 1973," he added. "The vigorous growth of employment and income we foresee in 1973 will mean an increase in the demand for meat in this country which, despite an increase in meat production, will put upward pressure on meat prices."

Circleville Tigers Stop Teays Valley, 73-66

NOT IN TIME —Teays Valley's Jeff Anderson (30) is a little late in his attempt to block the two pointer by Circleville's Greg Hoskins. It was another bucket for the tough Tiger forward who tallied 20 points in the contest to lead Circleville to a 73-66 win over the Vikings Friday night on the Blue and Gold floor. Jerry Sabine (50) and Jim Logsdon (44) of the Vikings and Dave Truex of Circleville move into the action.

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Circleville jumped off to an early lead but had to hold off a determined Teays Valley squad in the final period to gain a 73-66 and run its unbeaten string to 6-0 Friday night before a packed house at the Vikings gym.

The Tigers opened up a 14-4 lead midway through the first period and it appeared they were going to have things pretty much their own way until Jerry Sabine and Craig Pontius went to work in the second quarter and cut the margin to 30-28 with 3:30 left in the half.

But quick buckets by Dave Truex, John Ankrom and Kris Kline gave the Tigers an eight point spread and the Vikings never came closer than three points in the remainder of the contest.

Three times in the final period the Vikings closed to within three points but each time the Tigers were up to the challenge and countered with points of their own to keep the game under control.

It was a physical game with both teams going after the ball like it was the winning number in a bingo game. The aggressive play caused turnovers and the teams just about broke even in this department. Teays Valley was guilty of 23 miscues and the Tigers misplayed the ball 22 times.

Circleville held the shooting edge from the floor with 29 of 61 for 47.5 percent while the Vikings hit on 27 of 65 from the hardwood for a 41.5 percent. Shooting from the foul line was about even with Circleville converting 15 of 23 for 65 per cent and Teays Valley sinking 12 of 18 for 66.6 per cent.

Greg Hoskins paced the Tigers with eight from the floor and four from the charity stripe for 20 points. Truex and Dan Graham each added 15 markers, Doug Radabaugh netted 11, Glen Gillespie had six while Kline, Ankrom and Robin Martin each hooped two points.

Jerry Sabine led the Vikings and all scorers in the contest with eight from the field and eight of eight from the free throw line for 24 points. Craig Pontius connected for 17 tallies, Jim Logsdon had 14, Jeff Anderson seven and Terry Lambert added four.

The battle of the boards went to Teays Valley with 34 rebounds while Circleville pulled down 31 misses. Logsdon was the big man for the Vikings with 12 while Hoskins had 10 and Graham nine for the Tigers.

A pair of buckets by Radabaugh and Hoskins on give and go maneuvers and a shot by Truex gave the Tigers a 6-0 lead before Anderson hit from the side with 5:35 remaining in the period to put the Vikings on the scoreboard. Sabine and Pontius began to find the range but Graham and Hoskins countered for the Tigers to give Circleville a 23-14 margin at the end of the period.

Sabine was the point getter for the Vikings in the second frame as he meshed 12 counters in the period. A bucket by Pontius cut Circleville's lead to 30-28 with 3:30 to go in the stanza but Truex, Ankrom, Kline and Martin added tallies for the Tigers to give them a 40-34 as they went to the locker room at halftime.

Teays Valley cut the margin to 40-36 as Sabine tallied on a quick drive but consecutive baskets by Radabaugh, Hoskins and Graham upped the Tiger margin to 46-36 with 5:40 left in the period before Pontius and Lambert countered a bucket by Hoskins.

Logsdon came up with some fine moves underneath for three buckets, Anderson added a foul and basket and Sabine hit on a drive but Gillespie converted a pair of fouls and a two pointer from the floor and Hoskins grabbed a bucket on a steal to give the Tigers a 54-51 edge at the conclusion of the third canto.

Truex hit a pair of shots in the early minutes of the fourth quarter but Sabine and Logsdon each added a bucket to hold the margin at three for the Tigers.

Graham added a foul and a bucket on a great move underneath and Truex tallied on a steal but Pontius hit with a basket and a foul and Logsdon added a two pointer to run the score to 63-60 with 2:09 left in the game.

The Tigers countered with five quick points as Truex hit a basket and a foul and Gillespie sunk a jumper from the lane to give the Red and Black a 68-60 lead with 1:20 to go.

Sabine converted a pair of fouls for the Vikings, Radabaugh sunk a charity shot for Circleville and Logsdon scored from underneath to hold the Tigers lead to 69-64 with 35 seconds left. Hoskins and Radabaugh each connected on a pair of foul shots to up the count to 73-64 with nine seconds remaining and Pontius hit from the side at the buzzer to run the final score to 73-66.

Both coaches had to go to the bench in the contest as Truex received a nose injury and Radabaugh turned an ankle but both were treated and returned to action. Truex fouled out of the game with 1:20 left in the final period. Teays Valley lost Logsdon on fouls with 26 seconds remaining and both Pontius and Anderson had to spend some time on the bench when they drew three fouls.

Circleville is now 6-0 for the season and will be at Miami Trace Friday night in a postponed South Central Ohio League clash. Teays Valley now stands at 4-3 for the year, 4-0 in Metropolitan League play, and will travel to Olenangy Wednesday.

The undefeated Teays Valley reserves broke Circleville's winning streak with a 37-35 victory.

UCLA Turns Back Pitt Bid, 89-73

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Wooden was back in his customary chair on the sideline and his national collegiate basketball champions, the UCLA Bruins, welcomed his return by whipping Pitt 89-73 for their 50th straight victory. The Bruins go after No. 51 in a row tonight against Notre Dame, the last team to beat them.

"I'm glad to be back," said the 62-year-old world-famous coach who missed his first game in nearly 25 years last week because of a mild heart condition. "As far as our overall play was concerned we didn't play with intensity. After getting a good start we lost our momentum."

"I'm glad it wasn't a rout," commented Buzz Ridd, coach of the Panthers. Billy Knight of Pitt was the game's high scorer with 37. Bill Walton topped UCLA with 18.

Second-ranked Maryland beat George Washington 88-79 and No. 6 Long Beach State routed Long Island 104-62 but Florida State and Indiana, the other two teams in the Associated Press Top Ten to play, went down to defeat.

Florida State, No. 7, fell before Alabama 74-68 in the Dayton Invitational. No. 9 Indiana was knocked out of the unbeaten ranks by South Carolina 88-85.

Kevin Joyce poured in 41 points for the Gamecocks as they wiped out a 14-point deficit to upset the Hoosiers.

"What a clutch performance by our captain who had a fine series with the U.S. Olympic team last summer," enthused South Carolina coach Frank McGuire. "When we had to change from zone to man-to-man we were able to run with them and Joyce and Casey Manning and Mike Duleavy made our all-court press work late in the game as we wore them down."

"It was a great shooting performance by Joyce that determined the outcome," said coach Bobby Knight of Indiana.

Ron King of Florida State suffered a severe ligament tear in the first 90 seconds against Alabama, but Hugh Durham, the Seminoles mentor, said "If you're good you pick yourself up when something like that happens. We built a good lead without him, but couldn't keep it up."

Aces Nipped By CW, 79-76

Canal Winchester used a balanced attack to offset fine scoring efforts by Virg Strickler and Greg Glendenning of the Aces to gain a 79-76 win over Amanda-Clearcreek Friday night in a Mid-State tilt on the Indians' floor.

The Indians held a 17-12 lead at the end of the first quarter and were on top 41-31 at halftime. The Aces cut the margin to 57-53 at the conclusion of the third canto but couldn't make up the difference in the final period.

Strickler had 25 points for the Aces, Glendenning added 21, Rex Riddle had 10, Palmer eight, Foster seven, Mason four and Stroup tallied one.

Gruber meshed 14 for the Aces, Lackey had 12, Wagner 13, Hartman six, Black 23, Burtner and Ardrey hooped four.

Amanda will be back in action Thursday and Friday in the Logan Elm Holiday Tournament.

Grid Playoffs Slated Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Miami Dolphins, loaded with a stable of swifties, and the Cleveland Browns, who appear to have too little, meet Sunday in a National Football League playoff game.

But Miami Coach Don Shula hopes that he's not haunted by the spectre of seasons past.

Although Shula's unbeaten Dolphins are heavily favored in the game, one of four over the weekend, he is reminded of past history involving the Browns—most of it bad.

The last time Miami met Cleveland was Shula's first year with the Dolphins in 1970. The Browns walloped Shula's club 28-0.

When Shula was with Baltimore in 1968, the Colts lost only one of their 14 games all season. Guess who beat them? That's right, the Browns, by a score of 30-20.

And in 1964, Shula's Colts were heavily favored to beat Cleveland in the NFL championship game. But the Browns won that match, also, by a resounding margin—27-0.

In fact, the only time that a Shula team has succeeded in licking Cleveland was in the 1968 playoffs.

The Browns, however, have shown weaknesses on defense this year and appear to not have enough to stop Miami's 1,000-yard runners—Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris.

The other playoff game Sunday seems a fairer matchup as the Green Bay Packers tackle the Washington Redskins.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, winners of the American Conference's Central Division, play AFC West champion Oakland and the National Conference's Western king, San Francisco, meet the wild card Dallas Cowboys in today's games.

The winners this weekend will play for the conference championships on Sunday, Dec. 31, and the survivors will meet in the Super Bowl in Los Angeles on Jan. 14.

The Dolphins won all 14 games this year enroute to a runaway victory in the AFC's Eastern Division. With runners like Csonka and Morris—and an extra kick supplied by Jim Kiick—quarterback Earl Morrall figures to stick with a ground attack against the Browns, who nailed a wild card berth in the AFC despite an unstable defensive line that has included 10 different ends.

Washington captured the NFC's Eastern Division with a fine running attack, powered by 1,000-yarder Larry Brown and backfield mate Charlie Harraway. The Redskins' famed "Over The Hill Gang" takes on an up-and-coming Packer bunch that was picked to finish low but won the NFC's Central race.

ALL THE WAY—Jerry Sabine (50) of Teays Valley drives for a two point layup as he finds the alley clear. Sabine led all scorers in the game with 24 markers as the Vikings lost to the Tigers. Other Vikings in the picture are

Jim Logsdon (44) and Terry Lambert. Tigers in the action are Dan Graham (45), Greg Hoskins (23) and Doug Radabaugh (11). The game was played at a packed Teays Valley gym.

Viking Reserves Upend Tigers In Thriller

In a battle of undefeated reserve squads Teays Valley nipped Circleville, 37-35, in a real thriller Friday night on the Vikings' court.

Circleville led throughout most of the first three periods but the Vikings tied the score 26-26 with 57 seconds left in the third canto and took a 28-26 lead with 10 seconds remaining in the period. The Tigers stayed close but were unable to break into the lead during the rest of the game.

Teays Valley held a 33-30 margin with 3:10 to go and all the scoring from that point on came at the foul line. Chuck Glitt connected on four free throws for the Vikings while Harold Reed converted five charity tosses for Circleville to account for all the points in the last three minutes of play.

The Tigers lost Perry Hoskins via the foul route with 1:59 remaining and

George Spohn and Lee Stiles fouled out for the Vikings in the last minute of play.

Circleville led 12-8 at the end of the first quarter and held a 22-17 margin at halftime. Teays Valley took a 28-26 edge at the conclusion of the third canto and never trailed again.

Glitt and Keith Pettibone each netted 12 points for the Vikings, Steve Gregory added eight, Stiles had three and Steve Williams hooped two.

Reed paced the Tigers with 15 markers, Phil Roll added eight, Hoskins six, Frank Pleascia tallied four and Bill Massie had two.

Teays Valley is now 7-0 and will be at Olenangy Wednesday night. Circleville holds a 5-1 mark and will play at Miami Trace Friday night.

Both coaches had to go to the bench in the contest as Truex received a nose injury and Radabaugh turned an ankle but both were treated and returned to action. Truex fouled out of the game with 1:20 left in the final period. Teays Valley lost Logsdon on fouls with 26 seconds remaining and both Pontius and Anderson had to spend some time on the bench when they drew three fouls.

Circleville is now 6-0 for the season and will be at Miami Trace Friday night in a postponed South Central Ohio League clash. Teays Valley now stands at 4-3 for the year, 4-0 in Metropolitan League play, and will travel to Olenangy Wednesday.

The undefeated Teays Valley reserves broke Circleville's winning streak with a 37-35 victory.

UCLA Turns Back Pitt Bid, 89-73

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Wooden was back in his customary chair on the sideline and his national collegiate basketball champions, the UCLA Bruins, welcomed his return by whipping Pitt 89-73 for their 50th straight victory. The Bruins go after No. 51 in a row tonight against Notre Dame, the last team to beat them.

"I'm glad to be back," said the 62-year-old world-famous coach who missed his first game in nearly 25 years last week because of a mild heart condition. "As far as our overall play was concerned we didn't play with intensity. After getting a good start we lost our momentum."

"I'm glad it wasn't a rout," commented Buzz Ridl, coach of the Panthers. Billy Knight of Pitt was the game's high scorer with 37. Bill Walton topped UCLA with 18.

Second-ranked Maryland beat George Washington 88-79 and No. 6 Long Beach State routed Long Island 104-62 but Florida State and Indiana, the other two teams in the Associated Press Top Ten to play, went down to defeat.

Florida State, No. 7, fell before Alabama 74-68 in the Dayton Invitational. No. 9 Indiana was knocked out of the unbeaten ranks by South Carolina 88-85.

Kevin Joyce poured in 41 points for the Gamecocks as they wiped out a 14-point deficit to upset the Hoosiers.

"What a clutch performance by our captain who had a fine series with the U.S. Olympic team last summer," enthused South Carolina coach Frank McGuire. "When we had to change from zone to man-to-man we were able to run with them and Joyce and Casey Manning and Mike Duleavy made our all-court press work late in the game as we wore them down."

"It was a great shooting performance by Joyce that determined the outcome," said coach Bobby Knight of Indiana.

Ron King of Florida State suffered a severe ligament tear in the first 90 seconds against Alabama, but Hugh Durham, the Seminoles mentor, said "If you're good you pick yourself up when something like that happens. We built a good lead without him, but couldn't keep it up."

Aces Nipped By CW, 79-76

Canal Winchester used a balanced attack to offset fine scoring efforts by Virg Strickler and Greg Glendenning of the Aces to gain a 79-76 win over Amanda-Clearcreek Friday night in a Mid-State tilt on the Indians' floor.

The Indians held a 17-12 lead at the end of the first quarter and were on top 41-31 at halftime. The Aces cut the margin to 57-53 at the conclusion of the third canto but couldn't make up the difference in the final period.

Strickler had 25 points for the Aces, Glendenning added 21, Rex Riddle had 10, Palmer eight, Foster seven, Mason four and Stroup tallied one.

Gruber meshed 14 for the Aces, Lackey had 12, Wagner 13, Hartman six, Black 23, Burtner and Ardrey hooped four.

Amanda will be back in action Thursday and Friday in the Logan Elm Holiday Tournament.

Grid Playoffs Slated Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Miami Dolphins, loaded with a stable of swifties, and the Cleveland Browns, who appear to have too little, meet Sunday in a National Football League playoff game.

But Miami Coach Don Shula hopes that he's not haunted by the spectre of seasons past.

Although Shula's unbeaten Dolphins are heavily favored in the game, one of four over the weekend, he is reminded of past history involving the Browns—most of it bad.

The last time Miami met Cleveland was Shula's first year with the Dolphins in 1970. The Browns walloped Shula's club 28-0.

When Shula was with Baltimore in 1968, the Colts lost only one of their 14 games all season. Guess who beat them? That's right, the Browns, by a score of 30-20.

And in 1964, Shula's Colts were heavily favored to beat Cleveland in the NFL championship game. But the Browns won that match, also, by a resounding margin—27-0.

In fact, the only time that a Shula team has succeeded in licking Cleveland was in the 1966 playoffs.

The Browns, however, have shown weaknesses on defense this year and appear to not have enough to stop Miami's 1,000-yard runners—Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris.

The other playoff game Sunday seems a fairer matchup as the Green Bay Packers tackle the Washington Redskins.

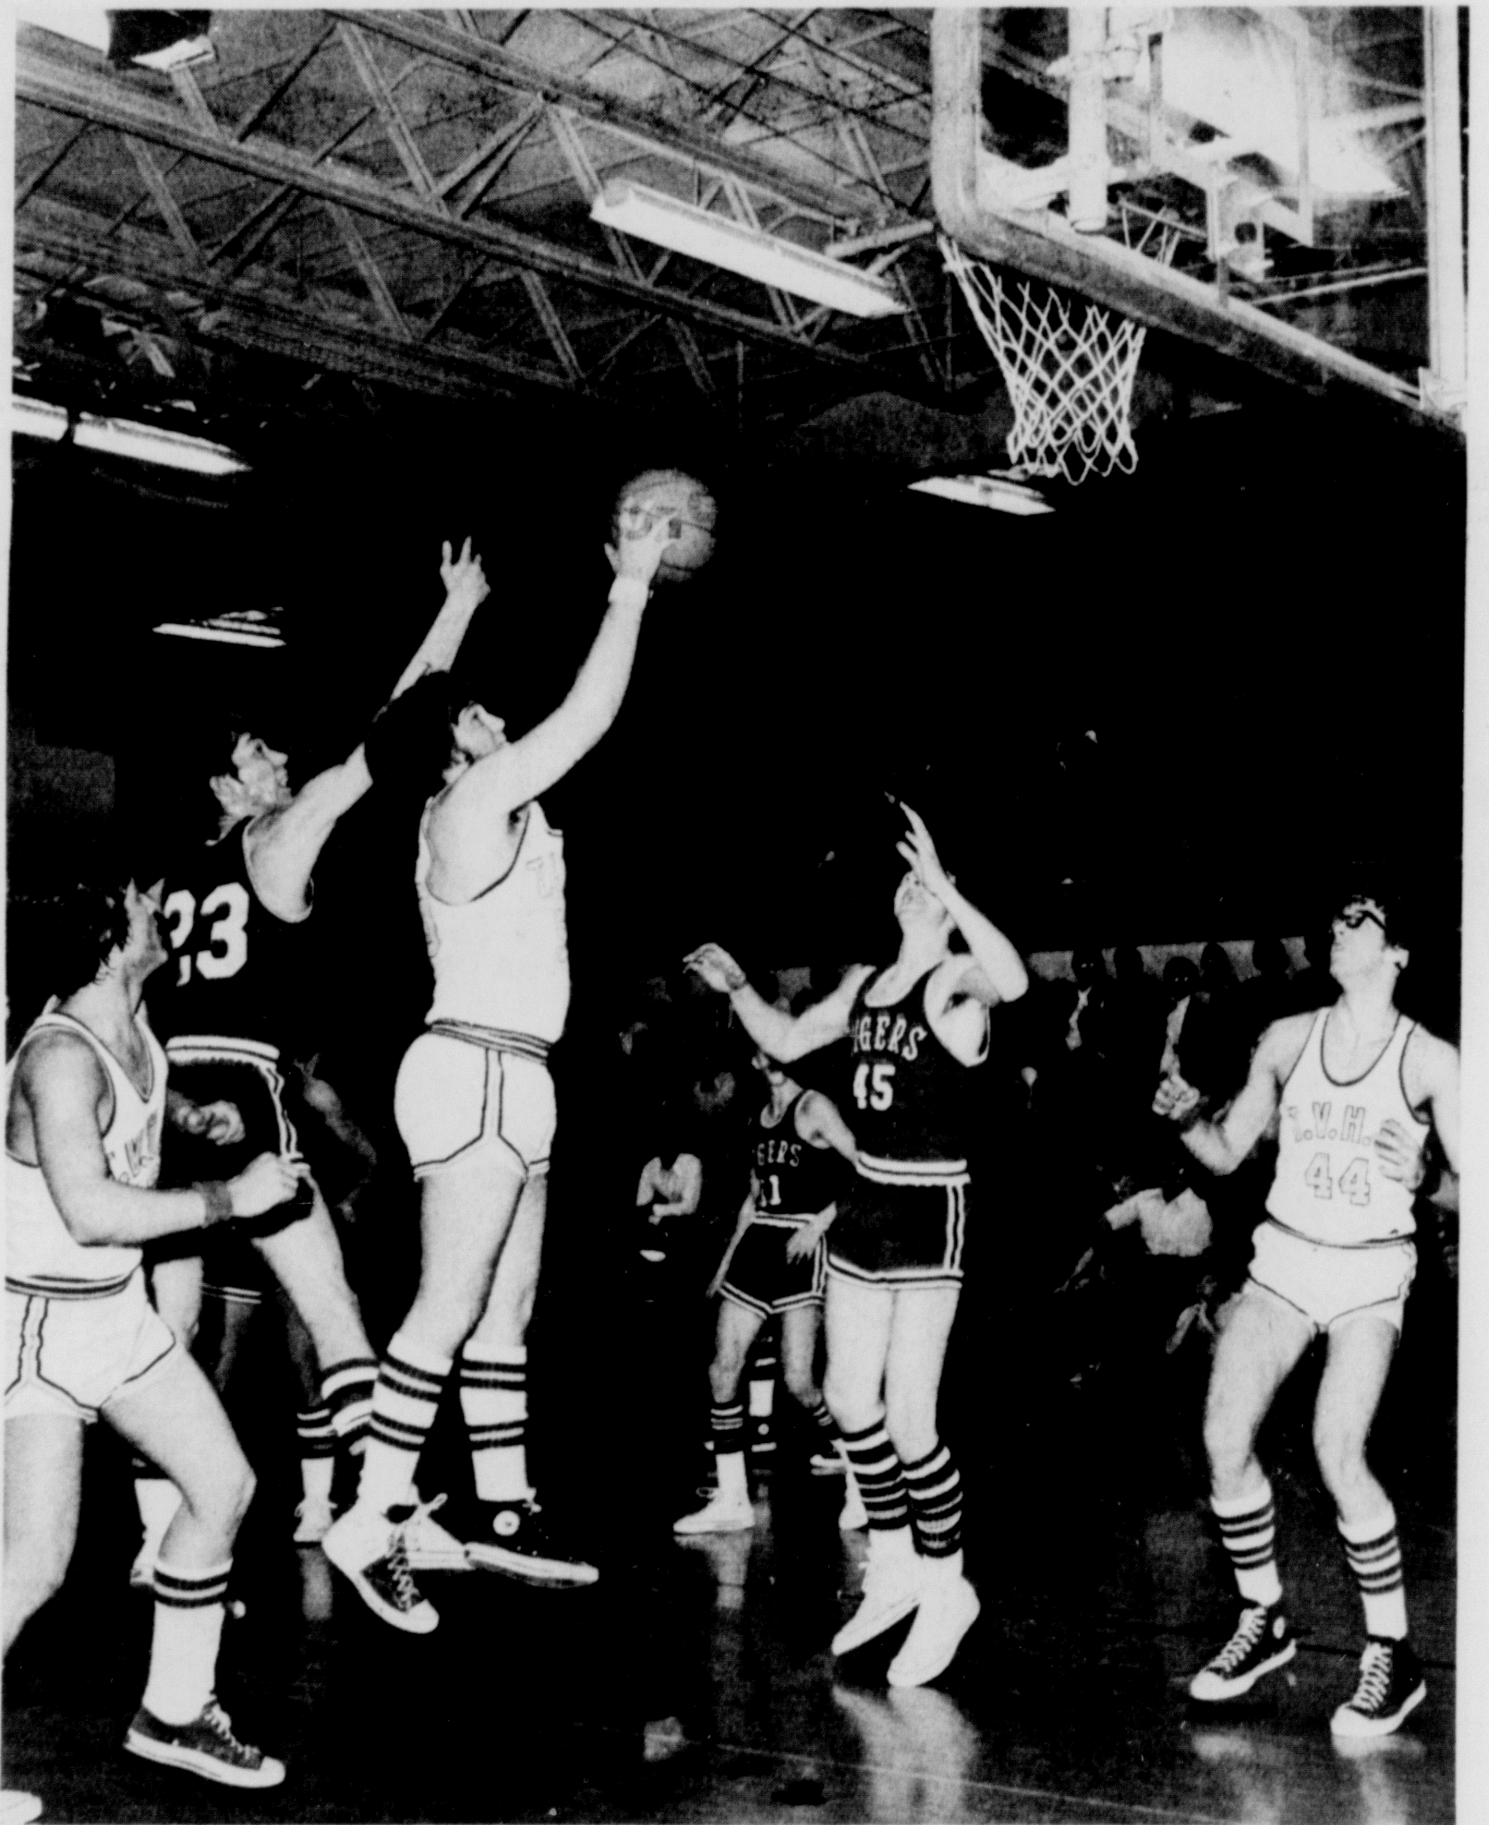

The Pittsburgh Steelers, winners of the American Conference's Central Division, play AFC West champion Oakland and the National Conference's Western king, San Francisco, meet the wild card Dallas Cowboys in today's games.

The winners this weekend will play for the conference championships on Sunday, Dec. 31, and the survivors will meet in the Super Bowl in Los Angeles on Jan. 14.

The Dolphins won all 14 games this year enroute to a runaway victory in the AFC's Eastern Division. With runners like Csonka and Morris—and an extra kick supplied by Jim Kiick—quarterback Earl Morrall figures to stick with a ground attack against the Browns, who nailed a wild card berth in the AFC despite an unstable defensive line that has included 10 different ends.

Washington captured the NFC's Eastern Division with a fine running attack, powered by 1,000-yarder Larry Brown and backfield mate Charlie Harraway. The Redskins' famed "Over The Hill Gang" takes on an up-and-coming Packer bunch that was picked to finish low but won the NFC's Central race.

ALL THE WAY—Jerry Sabine (50) of Teays Valley drives for a two point layup as he finds the alley clear. Sabine led all scorers in the game with 24 markers as the Vikings lost to the Tigers. Other Vikings in the picture are

Jim Logsdon (44) and Terry Lambert. Tigers in the action are Dan Graham (45), Greg Hoskins (23) and Doug Radabaugh (11). The game was played at a packed Teays Valley gym.

Viking Reserves Upend Tigers In Thriller

In a battle of undefeated reserve squads Teays Valley nipped Circleville, 37-35, in a real thriller Friday night on the Vikings' court.

Circleville led throughout most of the first three periods but the Vikings tied the score 26-26 with 57 seconds left in the third canto and took a 28-26 lead with 10 seconds remaining in the period. The Tigers stayed close but were unable to break into the lead during the rest of the game.

Teays Valley held a 33-30 margin with 3:10 to go and all the scoring from that point on came at the foul line. Chuck Glitt connected on four free throws for the Vikings while Harold Reed converted five charity tosses for Circleville to account for all the points in the last three minutes of play.

The Tigers lost Perry Hoskins via the foul route with 1:59 remaining and

George Spohn and Lee Stiles fouled out for the Vikings in the last minute of play.

Circleville led 12-8 at the end of the first quarter and held a 22-17 margin at halftime. Teays Valley took a 28-26 edge at the conclusion of the third canto and never trailed again.

Glitt and Keith Pettibone each netted 12 points for the Vikings, Steve Gregory added eight, Stiles had three and Steve Williams hooped two.

Reed paced the Tigers with 15 markers, Phil Roll added eight, Hoskins six, Frank Plescia tallied four and Bill Massie had two.

Teays Valley is now 7-0 and will be at Olenangy Wednesday night. Circleville holds a 5-1 mark and will play at Miami Trace Friday night.

Colonels Rip Rockets; Win Tilt 128-116

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If Max Hannum felt a bit stuffy today you could hardly blame him. The coach of the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association spent an exasperating Friday afternoon and night in Louisville. Not only did the Rockets get beat by the Kentucky Colonels 128-116, but they had to play in borrowed uniforms with the words Colonels on the shirts.

To complete Hannum's irritating day he was ejected after four technical fouls were called on him during Kentucky's 16-0 burst starting late in the third period that turned the game into a rout for the Colonels.

LaDell Andersen, coach of the Utah Stars, was more fortunate. The Stars drubbed the New York Nets 97-84 for their 10th straight victory and took over first place in the ABA West from Indiana when Dallas upset the Pacers 147-142 in double overtime.

Carolina downed San Diego 121-102 in the other ABA game scheduled.

Denver's uniforms got lost in a baggage mixup so the Rockets played in old Kentucky equipment.

Big 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore who led the Colonels with 31 points, 15 of them in the last period, said "We finally got our fast break going after those technicals on Hannum gave us some momentum."

Pistons Beat SuperSonics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Seattle SuperSonics played without two starters Friday night and it was a shame because they needed an extra hand or two to handle Bob Lanier.

Actually, they could have used an arm.

Detroit's beefy center broke through the SuperSonic barrier for a team-record 33 rebounds, helping the Pistons to an easy 109-97 National Basketball Association victory.

Lanier's performance topped a record shared by Bailey Howell and Walter Dukes. Lanier also had 19 rebounds in the first half for another Piston mark.

Along with his spectacular board work, the 6-foot-11 star poured in 23 points, many of them in a fourth-quarter burst that helped the Pistons shoot away from the outmanned Sonics.

The losers played without flustered Sidney Wicks and Lee Winfield, who's suffering with a pulled hamstring muscle.

In the other NBA games, it was: Atlanta 110, Buffalo 109; Boston 118, Kansas City-Omaha 90; New York 98, Cleveland 87; Houston 116, Philadelphia 103; Chicago 127, Portland 97 and Phoenix 118, Los Angeles 110.

Park Again Korean Chief

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park who has been ruling South Korea since 1961, was elected to a new six-year term Saturday under a new constitution that allows him to stay in power indefinitely.

His election by the National Conference for Unification, a 2,359 member electoral college, came as no surprise because there was no other candidate.

In addition, the great majority of the delegates, elected in a national election Dec. 15, were avowed supporters of Park.

The vote was nearly unanimous, with 2,357 votes for Park and two which were declared invalid. There had been no election campaign, and voting began without any debate.

Park is scheduled to take the oath as eighth president of the republic on Dec. 27.

The 55-year-old general-turned-politician came to power in 1961 in a bloodless coup overthrowing the government of the John M. Chang.

After he restored constitutional rule in 1963, Park was elected three times as president. His theoretically final four-year term was to expire in 1975 under the constitution, which his ruling junta wrote after the coup.

On Oct. 17, however, Park proclaimed martial law, suspended the old constitution and dissolved the National Assembly. He said he needed these extraordinary measures to carry out sweeping reforms to better face the challenges of the changing world.

He then proposed a new constitution, which was overwhelmingly approved in a referendum Nov. 21. Park said that the new basic law was designed to introduce a "Korean democracy" to replace a Western-style Democracy.

Johnny Bench Get-Well

Letters Prove Mixed Bag

CINCINNATI (AP) — One insistent young-miss who wrote to Johnny Bench following the Cincinnati slugger's recent surgery spoke for most of the 15,000 who sent letters.

"I love you Johnny Bench," the little girl wrote. "You are a good baseball player. You are a good man. I love you. Do you love me? Yes or no? Write back!"

Recovering from surgery during which a benign lesion was removed from his right lung, Bench still is struggling through a mountain of such mail.

Ted Bench, the young catcher's father, is helping, as is Mrs. Bench.

"It's unbelievable," the elder Bench said as he sifted through seven boxes of unopened mail. "They're from everywhere, from Hawaii, Puerto Rico, from all over. It is something else."

The younger Bench, most valuable player in the National League two of the last three seasons, mused over the outpouring of good will.

"I've got an awful lot of letters from young kids," he said. "Most of them are really sympathetic. A lot wanted me to get well so I could hit home runs."

"One letter was from a kid from a small school," Bench said. "He was

California Seals Top Buffalo, 4-2

OAKLAND (AP) — The California Golden Seals' 37-year-old goalie, Marv Edwards, held an ice pack on his left wrist, passed out cigars and told a locker room audience, "This shows what we can do. I know we're not that bad a team."

The cigars were because Edwards' wife gave birth to their fifth child, a 9-pound, 8-ounce daughter, Pandora, Friday at St. Catherine's, Ontario.

The ice pack was on a bruise from a shot by Buffalo's Gilbert Perreault in the last period of a 4-2 victory by the Seals over the Sabres in Friday night's only National Hockey League game.

OSU Grid Team Tours Disneyland

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Woody Hayes is a noted disciple of the running game, but he was willing to catch a pair of passes from Mickey Mouse.

The hard-bitten Ohio State football coach, in an unusual jovial mood, cooperated with photographers before he turned his squad loose Friday for a tour of Disneyland.

Mickey Mouse, or rather an individual costumed as the well-known cartoon personality, flipped a pair of passes to Hayes for the benefit of photographers. After the second catch, Hayes hustled up the famed Walt Disney character, put his arm around him and announced, "He's my buddy."

Hayes, famous for his discipline of football teams, then took over the picture-taking session.

"Why don't we have our two biggest men lifting him up?" Hayes suggested.

With that, he ordered 224-pound fullback Harold Henson and All-America offensive tackle John Hicks, a 260-pounder, to pick up Mickey Mouse.

"Okay, you want any other shots?" he asked. With no response, Hayes thanked the photographers and let his squad enjoy the Disneyland rides.

"It's good, clean amusement for them," he explained. "They worked hard this morning. They deserve a respite."

Dayton Tops Northwestern In Close Contest, 73-66

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dayton came from behind in the last 10 minutes of play and won a shot at the top spot in its own basketball invitational by defeating Northwestern 73-66 Friday night.

Alabama defeated top-20 ranked Florida State University 74-68 in the other half of the Dayton Invitational first round. Dayton will face Alabama Saturday in the tourney's finals.

The Flyers' Joe Fisher scored all of his 11 points in the second half spree that put Dayton in front for good.

With Northwestern on top 63-61, Fisher, a 6 foot 8 forward, put in two free throws and hit a corner jump shot to put the Flyers ahead 65-63. The Flyers never faltered from that point.

Dayton's top scorer was Donald Smith, a 6 foot junior guard with 28 points.

Wendell Hudson and Ray Odums paced Alabama in its upset victory over Florida.

Alabama took a 45-50 lead it never lost early in the second half when FSU failed to hit on its first 11 shots.

Hudson tallied 22 points for the winners and Odums poured in 18.

Capital University nipped Valparaiso 79-77 to come out on top of its Capital City Classic.

Mike Stumpf scored 25 points for Capital as the Crusaders pulled away from a 40-40 halftime tie.

In the consolation game Bob Solomon scored 33 points and led Wayne State to a 97-84 victory over Buffalo State.

In other Ohio games Ashland trounced Milton College, Wis., 116-80 and Wright State beat Cleveland State 52-48.

Raiders Defeat Ottawa Nationals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the better part of two periods Friday night, the Ottawa Nationals were making a mockery of the theory that a team needs its proper rest before playing a game. Then the Nationals were hit harder than the snow plow which damaged their plane Friday morning.

When the final horn sounded, the New York Raiders had a 7-5 World Hockey Association victory over the travel-weary Nationals.

The Nationals' plane was about to take off from the Ottawa airport when a snow plow backed into it and damaged it.

Unable to get another flight, the team boarded a bus and headed south. They picked up a police escort around Syracuse, N.Y., and made it to Madison Square Garden more than two hours late.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our Mother
"Auntie" Martin, whose birthday was
Dec. 27 and who passed away Dec. 23, 1969.
When God sent us our mother from
His home beyond the skies,
He sent the best in all the world, an angel in disguise.
He knew we'd need a mother who was good and sweet and kind,
So he looked among His angels and sent the best that He could find.
Now why He wants her back again we really do not know.
But though we love her more than life, we'll have to let her go.
Perhaps He knows she's worked too hard and thinks she needs a rest.
For in that home beyond the skies,
she's sure to get the best.
Sadly missed by Sons, Daughters and Grandchildren

In memory of our son, Danny, who died 5 years ago, December 23, 1967.

Thousands of people have toured our old store again this year — recalling the nostalgia and warmth of Christmas years ago. Have you been here yet? We suggest you come this week or even Saturday and Sunday, the day before Christmas, until 9:00 each night. If you can't make it now, plan on the weekend after Christmas. Here you can browse through layers of artificial snow and two floors of thousands of old time,
made with care and pride,
Country store products, candies and furniture, plus one of the largest supplies of restoration glass lamp shades and parts to be found.
Plan on two hours — you can rest your weary feet on our pot belly stove. We hope your family finds our old store that pleasant, comfortable, friendly experience of a bygone era. PEDDLERS — THE GENERAL STORE at the crossroads of Marysville, Ohio, 117 Main Street N (look for our rain barrel). Located off state Route 33, 28 miles N.W.
of Columbus, Ohio. Two fine restaurants within a block of store. Write for our new 1973
Spring Catalog.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day before Christmas is an unusually good day to reaffirm the ideals and the practical course in which you would like to channel your life. Evening is one of those times to really live the Golden Rule and to show you can refrain from criticism.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although you have much work to do, don't neglect to take time for meditation that will put you in the right mood for this holiday. Give with love and receive with love. Do not neglect the needy children.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can have a delightful time during the day, but don't neglect those who are in need in the p.m. Express that charitable quality you possess to the best of your means. Show kin true affection.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show how much you appreciate your family today and don't argue in p.m. Make your home more attractive and delight all who enter. Get that last-minute wrapping done early.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Put those Christmas Day ideas to work and then take it easy tonight by the lighted Christmas tree, enjoying gifts and kin. Don't neglect services in the morning. If you must go out, drive with care.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas for expansion in the future; make notations so as not to forget them later. Expand your horizons and make this a happy, successful day, p.m. Avoid arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan just how to get the cooperation of influential friends you have for your finest aims, projects. Try to be of assistance to those who are in trouble in p.m. A note of propriety will start the evening's festivities off well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have much to do early so you can make this holiday a happy one, so don't wait until the last minute. An expert can give you information you need. Make this a very productive day businesswise, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Showing friends and acquaintances that you really appreciate them and taking care not to criticize is best way to proceed now. Attend those parties to which you are invited. Make sure you do not eat or drink too much.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to bring cheer and happiness to others through gifts and visits, etc., while meditating on the spirit of the season. Meet the expectations of others with flying colors. Make sure you arrive on time for some big celebration.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Clarify those ideas you have or get new ones that will help you advance in the future, but keep them to yourself. New allies can be most helpful at this time. Make the evening a most happy and delightful one for yourself and others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Follow the promptings of your intuitive faculties and you please others greatly today, but don't be forceful with anyone tonight. Try to follow the kind philosophy of the Prince of Peace and feel happier. Reconcile with others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Harmonize ideas and differences you have with others during the day, and then have a quiet and happy evening with kin. Get that public work done during day, also. Make this a meaningful day, p.m.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who can work in the most efficient way, so be sure to teach early to think in loftier terms so the fine talents and promise can be fully realized. Teach also to be more philosophical so the tendency to complain will be gotten rid of early. Ethical and religious training early is a must, also. A regular bookworm here, once the habit of reading is acquired. Not very good at sports, though.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day before Christmas is an unusually good day to reaffirm the ideals and the practical course in which you would like to channel your life. Evening is one of those times to really live the Golden Rule and to show you can refrain from criticism.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Although you have much work to do, don't neglect to take time for meditation that will put you in the right mood for this holiday. Give with love and receive with love. Do not neglect the needy children.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can have a delightful time during the day, but don't neglect those who are in need in the p.m. Express that charitable quality you possess to the best of your means. Show kin true affection.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show how much you appreciate your family today and don't argue in p.m. Make your home more attractive and delight all who enter. Get that last-minute wrapping done early.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Put those Christmas Day ideas to work and then take it easy tonight by the lighted Christmas tree, enjoying gifts and kin. Don't neglect services in the morning. If you must go out, drive with care.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas for expansion in the future; make notations so as not to forget them later. Expand your horizons and make this a happy, successful day, p.m. Avoid arguments.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan just how to get the cooperation of influential friends you have for your finest aims, projects. Try to be of assistance to those who are in trouble in p.m. A note of propriety will start the evening's festivities off well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have much to do early so you can make this holiday a happy one, so don't wait until the last minute. An expert can give you information you need. Make this a very productive day businesswise, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Showing friends and acquaintances that you really appreciate them and taking care not to criticize is best way to proceed now. Attend those parties to which you are invited. Make sure you do not eat or drink too much.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to bring cheer and happiness to others through gifts and visits, etc., while meditating on the spirit of the season. Meet the expectations of others with flying colors. Make sure you arrive on time for some big celebration.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Clarify those ideas you have or get new ones that will help you advance in the future, but keep them to yourself. New allies can be most helpful at this time. Make the evening a most happy and delightful one for yourself and others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Follow the promptings of your intuitive faculties and you please others greatly today, but don't be forceful with anyone tonight. Try to follow the kind philosophy of the Prince of Peace and feel happier. Reconcile with others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Harmonize ideas and differences you have with others during the day, and then have a quiet and happy evening with kin. Get that public work done during day, also. Make this a meaningful day, p.m.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who can work in a most efficient way, so be sure to teach early to think in loftier terms so the fine talents and promise can be fully realized. Teach also to be more philosophical so the tendency to complain will be gotten rid of early. Ethical and religious training early is a must, also. A regular bookworm here, once the habit of reading is acquired. Not very good at sports, though. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Truce In Ireland For Christmas

BELFAST (AP) — Two bombs rocked a Masonic hall in Belfast one minute after midnight, the time set for the beginning of the Irish Republican Army's 72-hour cease-fire, but no casualties were reported.

Later, a gunman fired at a British soldier in a Roman Catholic area of the city but missed.

The Provisional wing of the IRA said Friday in announcing its cease-fire that it would apply only if troops refrained from search and arrest operations.

SOMEWHERE—Somewhere in this mass of High St. school children is Santa Claus. The jolly old man visited the school Thursday and "interrupted" all the classes on the last session of the year. One youngster said that Santa told her he would be sure to make his rounds Christmas eve, but that it was so warm this year, he would prefer to have a nice cold drink rather than the traditional hot chocolate.

Stump Retires As Member Of County ASC Committee

George Stump, Route 2, Ashville, has retired as a member of the Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He was honored by county and community committeemen Thursday at the annual banquet of the ASC held at Pickaway Arms.

Stump has served on the county committee the past nine years, four of them as chairman of the committee. Named to replace him as chairman of the 3-member committee was Paul Moore, Route 1, Williamsport.

Carl Anderson, Route 4, fills the vacancy left on the committee by Stump's retirement. The other member of the committee is Galen Mowery, Route 3.

The county committee was selected by the community committeemen Thursday. Community committeemen are elected annually by the county's farmers.

Community committee members are: Circleville, Washington, Wayne — Wayne Bower, Jerry Wolford, Franklin Mace; Darby, Monroe — Franklin Bailey, Willis Conley, Charles Rivers; Deercreek, Perry — Thomas McFadden, Lester Wolford, Merrill Carmean; Harrison, Scioto — Homer Cromley, Robert Peters, Paul Gochenour; Jackson, Muhlenberg — Lloyd E. Minor, Frank Longberry, Lawrence Carle; Madison, Walnut — Frank Coon, Harvey Seitz, Neal Brown; Pickaway, Saltcreek — Roy Dunkle, Orville Gifford, Robert Collins.

RETIRING—George Stump, Route 2, Ashville, was honored Thursday for his service to the Pickaway County ASC Committee. He has retired as a member of the committee. Participating in the presentation of a plaque are, from the left: Paul Moore, Galen Mowery, Stump, and Walton Spangler, Pickaway County executive director.

Man Killed By Auto On I-71 Ramp

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — A Springfield, Ohio, man was struck and killed by a car on an Interstate 71 exit ramp early today while seeking help for two friends injured in another nearby accident, police reported.

The victim was Jeryl Webber, 25. Authorities said Webber was hit a short time after the car in which he was a passenger was involved in a crash at the intersection of Ohio 41 and Carr Rd. in Fayette County. His death occurred at the intersection of Ohio 41 and the interstate highway.

The driver of the death vehicle was not charged pending further investigation.

Robert Roush, 26, Springfield, the other driver and Carl E. Satterfield, 22, Sedalia, a passenger in the Roush car along with Webber, were taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital at Washington Court House. Roush had abdominal and head injuries while Satterfield suffered back injuries, authorities said.

Webber was Fayette County's 14th traffic victim of 1972.

Stoutsville To Withdraw From Township

The village of Stoutsville is taking steps to withdraw from Clearcreek Twp.

At the regular session of the village council Monday, councilman Ellsworth Wright made the motion to have the village solicitor proceed with the necessary papers to withdraw from the township.

Mayor Goble Branham and council members Wright, Max Marshall, Lloyd Meyers, James Lovett, Gail Goldsberry believe the action necessary since the village residents are paying 1 mill taxes, exclusive of the one mill fire protection, for which the village receives no service.

It was noted the village pays $10 a month for use of the fire house to hold council meetings and $15 per hour when the township road maintainer is used in the village.

In addition to council members and the mayor, also present at the council meeting were street commissioner Bill Sark and clerk Mary E. Meyer.

A second reading of legislation to join the Ohio Municipal League was held and Mayor Branham reported on revenue sharing funds.

Two More File Appeals

Two men, found guilty in November of criminal offenses, have filed notices of appeals of their convictions.

Ron Coffman, of Hebron, is appealing a municipal court jury verdict charging him with driving while intoxicated. He was fined $150 and sentenced to three days in jail. Cost of the trial, $167.80, were also charged to Coffman.

Coffman was arrested in late June by the Highway Patrol on the drunk driving charge.

The second appeal is being filed by Stephen Roscoe Jones, Columbus, who was sentenced by a three judge court to the Ohio Penitentiary for armed robbery and auto theft.

He was sentenced to three 10-25 year terms and one 1-7 year term, all to run consecutively.
